THE DETERMINATION of Congress not to enter upon general business during the present session, but to restrict its action to such supplemental legislation as will make plain the intent and meaning of the Reconstruction Acts, meets with almost unanimous approbation. It has, indeed, been suggested that the condition of affairs with the Indians was so perilous as to render enactments in relation thereto indispensable; but the fact that the President, in response to the joint committee of the Houses, stated he had no communication to transmit to them, would seem to indicate that ample provision already exists to meet any exigency likely to arise in that direction. One western journal of prominence has demanded a revision of the tariff to conform to the necessities of domestic industry; and it is noteworthy that this journal, last year, was warmly enlisted on the Free Trade side; but, then, its conductors would probably disclaim all pretentions to stability, and frankly avow their preference for the sensational as a means of enhancing their own revenues. Some members of Congress, who wish to inaugurate a Mexican policy, either of executions or confiscations, or proscriptions, are impatient of limitations; but the bulk of the people applaud the action of the Houses, in refusing to entertain other business than that which specially called them together.

But it will be well for Congressmen first of all to get a perfect view of the difficulty they have assembled to remedy. When the Reconstruction Acts were passed, they had no idea they could be construed as they have been. The Military Government Act, in particular, did not seem to admit of different explanations. The Democratic members fully concurred with the Republican ones, in anticipating its meaning; and the President agreed with both. The newspapers of the country, North and South, took the same view of the requirements of these laws, while differing widely as to the necessity or expediency thereof. But scarcely had Congress entered upon its recess before legal ingenuity was brought to bear to find under the words of those statutes a meaning that was not in the words themselves. A system of interpretation, recondite and arbitrary as that of the Alexandrian theosophy, tortured the words until the desired meaning was extracted from them; and by this interpretation the laws were actually ignored and set aside.

It seems to us that the authors of most of the supplemental projects so far brought before either of the Houses, have not properly considered this point. By Mr STANBERRY's system of exposition, most of these new bills would be as readily set aside as those already on the statute books. So long as that gentleman shall be left at liberty to put his quiddits in place of the laws, the existing statutes are as good as any fresh ones that may be devised. No carelessly prepared measure will meet the case.

MR. WADE has felt the necessity of making a personal explanation touching his Lawrence speech. He attempts to explain what he said, or intended to say, but leaves a most indefinite impression on the public mind. He further charges the newspaper reporters with either mis conceiving or mis representing what he did utter. This expedient will avail little with journalists, for they know full well that reporters almost invariably catch the spirit of the speaker, and even preserve his peculiar forms of expression. Often they present the speech to their readers in a more creditable form than the speaker did to his hearers.

Mr. Chandler, on the contrary, has not called for any revision of the extravagant speeches he made during the same trip. So far as appears, he is determined to stand by his commitments. The fact is there seemed to be a rivalry between Mr. Chandler and Mr. Wade to see who should go farthest in extravagant inculcations. That Mr. Wade, upon reflection, is disposed to back out, is to his credit. It would have been better, however, if he had fairly withdrawn the obnoxious opinions, instead of attempting to escape responsibility for them by attributing carelessness or something worse to the reporter of his speech.

THE intelligence of the execution of Maximilian created a profound sensation throughout Europe. Young, cultured and chivalrous, he was as highly respected as a man as he was honored as a prince. His unhappy fate seems to have touched the Imperial family of France as sorely as that of Austria, for the reason that Napoleon was chiefly instrumental in prevailing on him to undertake the Mexican enterprise.

That Maximilian could have retired from Mexico in safety with the French troops is manifest. Why did he not? At least three solutions are offered to the mystery. By some it is conjectured that his personal relations with the French Marshal were so unpleasant that he resolved to incur the most serious hazards rather than be indebted to his protection for security. By others, it is surmised that, in common with most reigning princes, he was kept in such complete ignorance of the popular feeling that he thought it prudent to trust the chances of an independent movement. By still others, it is believed that he was actuated by a manly impulse to win the respect of his enemies by a display of rare constancy and heroism. It is quite possible that all these motives combined to produce that tragic closing of his career which will stand conspicuous in Mexican annals to the end of time.

THE Government has made out a most conclusive case against Surratt. The new evidence sheds a flood of light on the connection of his mother with the transaction, enough to silence all candid persons who hitherto inclined to think she was unjustly condemned. But no evidence has been adduced that enlarges the circle of conspirators, so as to include Mr. Davis or other members of the Confederate government.

THE SOCIETY for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of Pennsylvania, is now ready to go into operation in Philadelphia.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Out of a population of 120,000 San Francisco gave charitable relief to 7,500 in the year last past.

—Hon. Samuel Ruggles and Senator Sherman were "doing" the sights of Paris together at last accounts.

—The United States colonists in Brazil are suffering the greatest destitution, and bitterly regret their emigration.

—A Massachusetts jury of inquest have found a verdict that a man "came to his death by drowning in a fit."

—The number of persons attending the Paris Exhibition has reached as high as 120,000 on some of the fete days.

—A vein of silver and galena, of unusual richness has been discovered on the Cumberland river, not far from Smithland, Kentucky.

—The English are congratulating themselves that if the Prince of Wales does bet, he also does better than his predecessor, who cheated.

—Bismarck is said to have remarked of the French Emperor's late grand military show, "It is more amusing than war; but it is not war."

—It has been announced semi-officially that Mr. Wm. J. Ovens, of Philadelphia, the alleged murderer of Col. Riddle, will be impeached and removed from office.

—Three singular beings covered with hair, but having human voices, have been found roving wildly in Missouri, and a St. Louis paper suggests that they belong to a new race.

—The Hereditary Prince Maximilian of Tour and Taxis has just died at Carlsbad. His wife, a sister to the Empress of Austria, had given birth to a child only a few days before.

—Petroleum is not to be used only in raising steam for marine engines. It is stated that in New York a dummy engine using oil for fuel has been constructed and will soon be experimented with.

—A Connecticut genius has manufactured a knitting machine that will knit fifty pairs of stockings per day, and is so constructed that the stitch can be changed from a rib to a plain stitch almost immediately.

—A gentleman asked Mr. Beecher the other day what he intended to do with the characters of his novel now running in the Ledger. He said he was bothered to know, but "felt tempted to get up a grand railroad accident and kill them all off at once."

—The amount of incomes in Nebraska as returned to the United States collector is two hundred and fifty-eight thousand three hundred and ninety-nine dollars; of this amount $229,629 is returned by citizens of Omaha, and $39,740 by all the balance of Nebraska.

—There is considerable excitement in Western Virginia, and in Ohio opposite that State, respecting recent discoveries of silver in Jackson county, West Virginia. Jackson county is about thirty miles below Parkersburg, and about twenty miles above Pomeroy. The ore is said to contain ninety-four per cent. of silver and six of copper.

—George Muller, the renowned founder of the Orphan Establishment, Bristol, England, has received and expended $2,750,000, every penny of which was sent voluntarily, and without solicitation. He has 1,200 orphan children under his charge, occupying five large stone houses, each distinct from the other.

—A curious trial of strength occurred in Buffalo on Thursday last. There was a dispute as to the relative strength of two tugs, and it was decided by attaching a strong hawser from the stern of one to the other, and then at a given signal each endeavored to pull the other backwards. The winning, and of course strongest tug dragging the other off captive.

—The Federal Government will cost the New Dominion in salaries $115,000 per annum, including the salary of the Governor General. If Ministers are to receive $8,000 per annum, instead of $5,000, the cost will be increased to $30,000. The number of members composing the Government, namely, thirteen, is deemed unlucky, and is profanely called the "Devil's dozen."

—Farm hands are wanted in the West, and the demand for them comes from all quarters. The enormous crop now almost ready for the harvest will require, to properly secure it, more hands than can be procured in the West, and this affords a splendid opportunity to the thousands of men out of work in the Eastern cities, who are unsuccessfully going from one store to another soliciting employment.

—The water procured from the Chicago lake tunnel is said to be very clear and wholesome. It is pumped up by three massive low pressure engines, only two of which are now in working order, the other undergoing repairs. These two are five hundred horse power each, and have four boilers. The two largest are about thirty-two feet in length by ten in diameter, and the other eighteen in length by ten in diameter.

—The Philadelphia Ledger tells of a young woman in that city who nightly has a personal encounter with a piano, which she tortures in the most cruel manner. She begins playing her piano and singing operatic airs every evening at about 10 o'clock, and continues until about one the next morning. As all the windows are kept open at this hot season the neighbors toss on their beds and perspire and threaten unutterable things.

—Ghosts, although generally supposed to be spiritual, are yet worldly enough to be brought into a court of justice. It is announced that a suit was recently brought by a London manager against a German artist for breach of contract in the production of ghosts in a theatrical performance. The ghosts were shown to be fewer in number and less distinct in appearance than was called for in the contract, yet a verdict was given for the defendant.

—Some Milwaukee citizens hoped to see a little fun with a Japanese drunkard the other evening, and invited the venerable Stru Kee Chee out for the purpose of drinking him drunk. Mr. Stru Kee Chee took all the whisky the citizens called for, and threw it into his manly bosom, on which it had about as much effect as it would have upon a brass kettle. Result, at twelve o'clock, Stru Kee Chee "All Right," and sober as an owl, and Milwaukee citizens riding home on shutters.

—The honey ant, of Texas, is described as a very curious insect, by a Texan newspaper. In size it is about half-way between the large and small red ants. Its color is a kind of reddish brown. The honey bag or sack is attached to the posterior part of the abdomen. It is overlaid with thin dark layers about half as large as a grain of rice, and contains a "pure, clear honey, of a most delicious flavor." Whether these ants have a common store-house, like the bee, our Texan authority does not know.

—A correspondent speaking of the violent death of the Austrian Archduke Maximilian, remarks that many of his relatives appear to have suffered grevious blows of fortune. The Princess Charlotte, wife of Leopold, died in childbirth. His daughter married the Duke of Orleans, who was killed by a fall from a cab. Their children were expelled from the throne of France. The Princess Carlotta is crazed. Marie Antoinette was executed. Marie Louise was expelled from France. An Archdutchess was lately burned to death.

Western Union Telegraph Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 10.—The annual election for a Board of Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company was held to-day. The following gentlemen were declared elected: D. N. Barney, New York; R. S. Burrows, Albion, N. Y.; J. Butterfield, Utica, N. Y.; Isaac Butts, Rochester, N. Y.; John J. Cisco, New York; Ezra Cornell, Ithaca, N. Y.; William E. Dodge, New York; A. Gaitner, Cincinnati; N. Green, Louisville; Wilson G. Hunt, New York; George Jones, New York; Cambridge Livingston, New York; B. R. McAlpine, Rochester, N. Y.; E. D. Morgan, New York; Francis Morris, New York; G. H. Mumford, Rochester, N. Y.; William Orton, New York; O. H. Palmer, Rochester, N. Y.; E. S. Sanford, New York; Hiram Sibley, Rochester, N. Y.; Moses Taylor, New York; J. H. Wade, Cleveland; George Walker, Springfield, Mass.; D. A. Wilson, Rochester, N. Y.; Legrand Lockwood, New York. About $20,000,000 of stock was represented, and the election was unanimous.

At a meeting of the Board held this afternoon, the following officers were elected: William Orton, President; H. Sibley, first Vice President; N. Green, second Vice President; B. R. McAlpine, third Vice President; O. H. Palmer, Secretary and Treasurer.

The American Pianos in Paris.

The American public ought to understand the fact that decoration of the legion of honor premiums, given by the French Government, are purely personal, and can readily be obtained by any respectable person with the aid of influential friends at the French Court. Such decorations are entirely distinct from and outside of the duties of the International Juries, not recommended by them nor even brought to their knowledge, and not mentioned in their report, but secured by outside influence. The position and endorsement accorded to each exhibitor by the International Jury can alone be regarded as the standard of excellence of the articles exhibited. Otherwise it would be gross favoritism and interference with the duties of the Juries on the part of the French Government. However flattered, therefore, the recipient of such a decoration may feel, it is merely an individual matter, and does not in the slightest degree affect or add to the verdict of the International Jury regarding the articles exhibited by him.—*N. CONGRESS

In Extraordinary Session.

SENATE RECONSTRUCTION BILL FURTHER DISCUSSED.

The Impeachment Question.

NO REPORT AT THIS SESSION.

Position of the Committee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 10, 1867.

SENATE.

THE QUESTION OF BUSINESS.

Mr. SUMNER moved to proceed to the consideration of his resolution rescinding the resolution of last Friday.

Mr. TRUMBULL opposed it.

The Senate refused to consider it.

RECONSTRUCTION RESUMED.

The Reconstruction bill was taken up.

Mr. HOWARD reviewed the arguments of the Attorney General, controverting the position taken by him, and saying the President's scheme was to reinstate rebels to their former power.

Mr. WILSON'S amendment, offered yesterday, was agreed to.

Mr. DRAKE offered an amendment to the sixth section, which defines the intent of the oath prescribed in the supplementary act. The amendment was to strike out the words "while holding any such office," or so as to make the clause read, "but no person who has been a member of the Legislature of any State, or who has held any judicial or executive office, whether he has taken the oath to support the Constitution or not, while holding any such office, or afterwards engaged in the insurrection or rebellion."

A long debate ensued.

Mr. JOHNSON suggested that Mr. Drake change the wording of the amendment so as to read: "And whether he was holding such office at the time of the rebellion, or had held it before."

The amendment was modified as suggested.

Mr. TRUMBULL said this made a very awkward section of it, and did not accomplish anything. It did not alter the original intent of the bill.

The amendment was agreed to as modified.

Mr. HOWARD moved as an amendment to the sixth section, a proviso that the mere act of having voted for the ordinance of secession shall not, of itself, be deemed under this act, or shall any person be deemed disqualified by reason of holding the office of justice of the peace, trustee, or agent of any institution, of any public institution, &c.

Mr. HOWARD said Gen. Schofield had made a ruling which renders the above necessary as regards those who voted for the ordinance of secession.

Mr. BUCKALEW desired to know if members of the bar were included in this amendment. They were judicial officers in a certain sense, and might be excluded under the stringent laws in operation. He regarded it as dangerous to attempt an enumeration in a case like this, because all who were not included would be regarded as coming under the exclusion of the bill.

Mr. HOWARD modified his amendment by inserting after the words "ordinance of secession" "at a popular election."

Mr. POMEROY suggested whether this amendment was not in opposition to the resolution restricting legislation to the removal of obstructions to the execution of previous laws.

Mr. HOWARD said this was necessary to remove an obstruction, according to the interpretation put on it by Gen. Schofield.

Mr. SUMNER characterized the amendment as a perfect Noah's ark, in which the rebels were to be saved.

Mr. HOWARD, replying to Mr. Nye, said the gentleman had misconstrued, and denied that it was opening the doors for the admission of the rebels to participate in the government. All he desired was to ascertain the meaning of the words in the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution, relating to engaging in rebellion, or giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the Government. He wished the Senate to say whether a vote for secession was an act of treason, and was so intended when the fourteenth amendment was passed in the Senate.

DEATH ANNOUNCED.

Announcement was here made of the death of Charles Dennison, Member of the House.

Messrs. BUCKALEW and CAMERON delivered eulogies, and the usual resolutions were adopted.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

KENTUCKY CONTESTED ELECTIONS.

On motion of Mr. DAWES, the time for taking testimony in the Kentucky contested election cases was extended till the 1st of December.

TREATMENT OF UNION PRISONERS.

Mr. SHANKS asked leave to offer a preamble and resolutions, reciting that there had been no thorough investigation of the treatment of Union prisoners by the Confederates during the war, and that the people think such investigation should be made, and resolving that a select Committee of five be formed to make such investigation, and report to the House, with such recommendations as may seem proper, with power to send for persons and papers, to appoint clerks and reporters, &c.

Mr. WOOD objected.

Mr. SHANKS moved to suspend the rules.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, inquired whether the investigation should not be referred to the Select Committee, appointed last Monday, on motion of Mr. Butler, in reference to the assassination conspiracy?

Mr. SHANKS thought not, as that committee had as much business as it could do.

The question to suspend the rules was taken by yeas and nays, and resulted: Yeas, seventy nine, nays thirty-eight.

The rules were suspended and the resolutions introduced.

THE AMNESTY TO WITNESSES.

Mr. DAWES called attention to the resolution promising amnesty and grace, which was copied from that offered the other day by Mr. Butler. It attempted to pledge the faith of the Government, not only that no person shall have used against him evidence that he may give before the Committee, but that he shall not be tried at all on any evidence.

Mr. SHANKS admitted the resolution was, to say the least, precocious, and he would withdraw it.

Mr. SPAULDING argued that the subject should be referred to Mr. Butler's Select Committee, expressing his opposition to the appointment of so many special committees.

Mr. SHANKS demanded the previous question on the adoption of the resolutions.

The previous question was seconded.

The first resolution, authorizing the appointment of the Committee, was adopted—yeas, one hundred; nays, twenty-eight.

The second resolution, authorizing the Committee to send for persons and papers, was adopted without division.

The third resolution, promising grace and amnesty to witnesses implicated in the crime, and which had not been withdrawn, but modified, was rejected.

The preamble was then agreed to, modified so as to read. "WHEREAS, It is expedient that the treatment of prisoners of war and Union citizens, held by the Confederate authorities during the rebellion, shall be thoroughly investigated, therefore," &c.

MR. STEVENS MAKES A PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Mr. STEVENS, rising to a personal explanation, referred to the correspondence published in the New York Herald, on Monday. He questioned the propriety of publishing a private conversation. He admitted the political views attributed were correctly stated, but disclaimed the remarks attributed to him in reference to his colleagues.

ALLOWED TO RECORD THEIR VOTES.

Mr. BROOMALL was granted permission to have his name recorded in the affirmative on the passage of the reconstruction bill.

A similar permission was granted such other members as desired it.

TO EXTEND HOMESTEAD ACT.

Mr. JULIAN introduced a bill to extend and apply the provisions of the homestead act in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Florida.

Referred to Committee on Reconstruction.

ARREST OF AMERICANS IN IRELAND.

Mr. ROBINSON, of New York, offered a resolution, directing the Committee on Foreign Affairs to report immediately whether any American citizen has been arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced, in Great Britain or Ireland, for words spoken, or acts done, in the United States. In support of the resolution he sent to the Clerk's desk, and had read, a statement of the case of S. J. Meany. He trusted there was spirit enough in the nation, and weight of metal enough in the army and navy, to take Mr. M. out of prison and bring him back, even if in the march toward that prison it became necessary to tread down the nation who held him.

Mr. WOOD said from personal observation within six weeks in Ireland, he was satisfied as to the insecurity of every American in that country. He presented a statement of the case of Col. W. J. Nagle, a native of New York, and an officer in the Federal army, who was arrested on his way to Waterford, and is now held a prisoner. He asked his colleague (Mr. Robinson) to allow the resolution to apply to Col. Nagle.

Mr. ROBINSON assented.

Mr. STEVENS expressed the hope the House would not adopt the principle of trying here the judgments of the British Courts. These were matters which every nation managed for itself, and he should be unwilling to allow any other nation to decide in the action of an American Court against rebels, who might be subjects of such nations; but as it was simply a resolution of reference, he could see no objection to it.

The resolution was adopted.

TAXATION OF GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Mr. WASHBOURNE offered a resolution declaring the burthen of the Government should by taxation in proportion to property; that the exemption of any material portion of the wealth of the country from its due proportion is wrong and should be avoided, and that to carry out these views the right to tax the bonds of the Government should be given in any future system of funding bonds.

The House refused to second the previous question on the adoption of the resolutions, and they were referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

ANOTHER KENTUCKY PROTEST.

Mr. ADAMS presented the protest of J. P. Knatt, member from the Fourth District of Kentucky, against the action of the House in his case. Referred to the Committee on Elections.

TO REDUCE TAX ON DISTILLED SPIRITS.

Mr. BARNES asked leave to offer a joint resolution to reduce the tax on distilled spirits from two dollars to seventy-five cents per gallon.

Mr. SPAULDING and others objected.

DISCHARGES FOR DESERTERS.

Mr. SCHENCK introduced a bill to provide for granting honorable discharges to soldiers classed as deserters.

Mr. ASHLEY moved his bill, as introduced a few days ago, as a substitute for it, and moved the rules be suspended to have it considered.

Mr. STEVENS asked of the Speaker whether the resolution adopted by the House did not prevent the consideration of the bills.

The SPEAKER replied that the resolution simply operated as a rule which could be, as well as other rules, suspended by a two-thirds vote.

Several amendments were suggested by Messrs. RAUM, COBB, GARFIELD and others. They were all ordered to be printed and their consideration set down for to-morrow.

QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE—IMPEACHMENT OF THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. WILSON, rising to a question of privilege, said the Judiciary Committee was directed at the last session to make report this session on the impeachment of the President. I am directed by the Committee to state it is not now prepared to submit a report, but it will be prepared to submit a report on that subject at any session that may be held on or after the 16th of October next. I have been also requested to state the position occupied by the Committee on this question. Five members of the Committee are of the opinion that such high crimes have not been proved against the President as would call for his impeachment. Four members of the Committee occupy a position, believing that sufficient matter has been developed in the case as to call for the impeachment of the President. That is all I am directed to state, and I believe that statement covers all the authority given me by the Committee.

ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION.

Mr. BOUTWELL, in connection with the subject, offered a concurrent resolution for the adjournment of Congress till the 15th of October.

An animated debate between Messrs. WILSON and BOUTWELL, and WILLIAMS and WOODBRIDGE ensued, which closed at three o'clock.

DEATH ANNOUNCED.

Mr. BOYER rose at three o'clock in the afternoon to announce the death of his colleague, Mr. Dennison.

The impeachment matter went over till to-morrow, after which the House adjourned.

FROM MEXICO.

Additional Details of the Execution of Maximilian and His Associates—What They Said—Proceedings of the Court Martial—Maximilian Ably Defended.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 10.—The following are additional details of the execution of Maximilian and his associates: At six o'clock A. M., on the 19th inst., the troops of Escobedo formed a short distance from the city for the execution of Maximilian and his Generals, the people of Queretaro flocking by thousands to see the closing scene. At seven the bells toll and announce that the prisoners have left their prisons for the last time and are on their way to their execution. After a few moments they appear, drawn in carriages and a large guard around them—the Emperor first, Miramon next, and Mejia last. The carriages stop and the prisoners get out. Among the concourse you can hardly see a dry eye, and tokens of dissatisfaction are manifested. Maximilian on alighting is saluted by the people. In an easy and peaceful manner, and with an elastic step, he marched to the fatal spot.

After taking his position, the Emperor spoke in a clear, firm manner and with nothing of bravado. He seemed to feel his situation, and said when he was first waited upon at home by the deputation from Mexico, who came with credentials, offering him the government of the country, he refused. At a subsequent meeting the proposition was again presented, and he replied if convinced that the majority thought it was to their interest to place him at the head of the government he might consent. Another deputation waited upon him and brought more testimonials. Upon advices from the powers of Europe who told him there was no other course to pursue, he accepted the call. He denied that the Court that tried him had a right to do so. His was a case of good faith. The nations of the world had pledged their faith to him. He never would have done the act had it not have been for the good of Mexico. In conclusion he hoped his blood would stop the effusion of blood in the country.

Miramon spoke from a paper. He told them that he was no traitor, but had always opposed Liberal principles, and had always been against the disorder of the country; he should die as he lived, a conservative, satisfied to die for his country, the fame of his acts would live, and posterity would judge whether he was right or wrong. He closed with the words "Viva La Emperour," "Viva La Mexicana."

Mejia made no address. He went to Escobedo and said he would die poor, that he had never made an effort to make money. His only wealth consisted in forty cattle in the mountains. He asked that the merchants of Matamoras to whom he owed considerable, would not press his wife to pay his debts when she came into possession of the money left her by the kindness of the Emperor.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—Madam Juarez and a party of fifteen persons arrived last night and left this morning for Vera Cruz on the Revenue cutter Wilderness.

The Brownsville Ranchero, of the 4th publishes the proceedings of the court martial that tried Maximilian and his generals. The court was composed of a Lieutenant Colonel, President, six captains, and Judge Advocate, Lieut. Col. Manuel Asperiose. The prisoners were tried separately; each plea contending the jurisdiction of the court, and protesting against the refusal of the right to appeal.

Maximilian was confined to his bed when his case was called, his being the last. He was ably defended by Senor Eulilo Ortego, who refuted the charges of Maximilian's usurpations and cruelty. He said the law of the third of October was made when Maximilian was cheated into the belief that Juarez had abandoned the territory, and that one of the articles of that law was dictated by the French commander-in-chief. He said that law was only intended as a terror, and there never had been a petition for pardon presented but was conceded. He asked the members of the Court in the name of civilization, which will judge of the deeds done this day, as the defenders of the twenty eighth independence of Mexico, to save the good name of the country in the eyes of coming generations, they will forever applaud the crowning of the greatest victories as the greatest pardons. Among the accusations is one of attempting to prolong the war by the decree of March 7th, and creating a regency in case of his death in coming battles. Jesus Maria Vasquez, one of Maximilian's counsel, closed the argument as follows:

If you condemn him to death, I am not uneasy about a coalition in Europe or an attitude the United States may assume toward the Republic. I have confidence in the Liberals, but I fear the universal reproach that will fall upon our country as an anathema more than the sentence of death, because of the nullity and proceedings of this Court. The Court commenced at 8 A. M. on the 13th, went into secret session on the evening of the 14th, and dissolved the same night.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Missouri River Steamers Burned—Lumber Destroyed—Unfounded Report Concerning the Cholera—Convention of Millers and Flour Merchants.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—The steamers Yellow Stone and G. W. Graham, just returned from the Upper Missouri, and laid up at the lower end of the levee, were burned this evening. The Yellow Stone was valued at $30,000; insured for $20,000. The Graham was valued at $25,000; insured for $5,000. A large lot of lumber and staves lying on the levee took fire, and a considerable quantity was destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The reports circulated in Chicago to-day that the cholera had broken out here, are totally unfounded. The city never was in better sanitary condition, and the mortality lists are smaller than for several years at this season.

A convention of millers and flour merchants was held here to-day. Delegates from Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri were present. The object of the Convention was to form an association for procuring statistics of the stocks of flour and wheat in different parts of the country, and other information valuable to the trade, in order to protect themselves against false reports. The country delegates are being entertained at a splendid banquet at Barnum's Hotel to-night.

Railroad Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TOLEDO, July 10.—The Convention called in the interest of the proposed railroad from Toledo to Columbus, Ohio, assembled in this city to-day. Full delegations from all important points along the route were present. Resolutions were adopted providing for an immediate survey of the route and the appointment of delegates to a meeting to be held in this city on the 18th inst., to effect a permanent organization.

A Military Revolt.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, July 4.—The insurrection announced to have taken place at Porto Rico turns out a military revolt, led by a Captain of artillery, which was easily quelled, after some skirmishing, winding up with a surrender, and a few executions by Court Martial.

Lieutenant Governor of Ohio.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., July 10.—The Union State Central Committee to-day nominated Gen. Jno. C. Lee, of Seneca, for Lieutenant Governor, to fill the vacancy on the State ticket caused by the declination of Hon. Samuel Galloway.

Wire Mill Burned.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WORCESTER, MASS., July 10.—The South Worcester Wire Mill, belonging to Washburne & Moen, was partially burned this morning. Loss covered by insurance.

GREAT BRITAIN.

QUESTION IN REGARD TO IRELAND—IMPORTANT DIPLOMATIC NOTE.

LONDON, July 10.—An important diplomatic note from the Russian Cabinet, in regard to Ireland, has just been published. It is addressed to the Ambassadors of Russia and Paris. They are requested to call the attention of the Governments to which they are respectfully accredited to the existing state of affairs in Ireland, and are instructed to represent that in the opinion of the Russian Cabinet, the condition of that island invited a joint inquiry on the part of the governments of Russia, France and the United States, in conjunction with that of Great Britain.

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT DECEASED—GEN. PRIM, THE REVOLUTIONARY EXILE.

LONDON, July 10.—Hon. Mr. Schofield, Member of Parliament, is dead.

Dispatches received here to-day from Madrid, announce that General Prim, a noted revolutionist, who had been for some time an exile from Spain, had landed in the Province of Catalonia. Though nothing definite is known of his destination, fears are entertained in Madrid that his sudden appearance is but the forerunner of an insurrection in that province.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 10, 1867.

Thomas J. Raybold testified that he had charge of the front of the theatre and of the boxes on the night of the assassination. Was in front of the theatre several times during the evening. Never saw the prisoner before. Witness gave considerable testimony, but nothing of importance.

Dr. Wm. Baldwin, medical officer in the army during the war, testified that he would not believe John Lee under oath.

John H. Wise testified that he had never heard Lee's reputation for truth questioned.

A. B. Munson, clerk at the War Department, testified Lee's reputation as a man of truth is bad; would not believe him under oath in a case of life or death.

Lemuel L. Orme, residing in Prince George county, Maryland, testified that the reputation of John T. Tibbets for truth and veracity is bad; would not believe his oath.

William J. Watson, B. J. Naylor, George E. Orme and Francis A. Ward, also neighbors of Tibbets, gave similar testimony.

Bernard Henze, keeper of the Metropolitan Hall, testified that he was in Philadelphia on April 14th, 1865, and left the Hall in charge of his brother and a police officer.

Martin Henze, brother of the preceding witness, testified that he knew of no performance in the Hall on the afternoon of April 14th; never was any dancing on Friday afternoons. The tables in the rooms were all square; no round tables there. Witness never knew Booth; never saw the prisoner until now.

George Naekman and Police Officer Vass also testified there was no performance in the Hall on the afternoon of April 14, 1865.

Thomas Garri, livery keeper, testified he would not believe William E. Cleaver under oath. Cleaver was considered a liar; had been tried in this Court within six or eight months.

Wm. Horner testified he would'nt believe Cleaver under oath.

James W. Pumphrey gave similar evidence.

John Cook, John Rainy and John Holoran testified similarly.

Holoran testified Cleaver was at the stable one day; he was speaking of the conspiracy; said he did not care for his oath.

Jay Feys sworn and asked if he has any conversation with Cleaver as to the advantages that would ensue if he testified in his case.

Mr. Carrington objected. The counsel must first lay a foundation.

Mr. Bradley read from the report as published by the reporter, to show that Cleaver stated on cross-examination that he had received no offer of reward for testifying at the trial.

Mr. Bradley stated he expected to disprove this testimony by the witness on the stand.

The Court ruled out the question as not material to the issue, and defence noted an exception.

Mr. Bradley proposed to offer in evidence the record of the trial at which Cleaver was convicted of rape and manslaughter, in the early part of the term of the Criminal Court.

Counsel for the United States objected. The record was handed up to the Court by Mr. Merrick and read by Judge Fisher. After some argument the Court decided that Cleaver having obtained a new trial, at which it was possible he might be able to prove his innocence, he (the Judge) could not see there was any record to offer, besides the crime for which Cleaver had been tried was manslaughter, a crime not affecting the truth or falsity of a man. The law presumes every man innocent till convicted. Therefore the record could not be admitted. Recess till to-morrow.

THE FIFTEEN-INCH NAVY GUN.

Accounts of the trial of the fifteen-inch gun of our navy pattern, made for the British Government, give results of a highly flattering nature. The tests have been very severe.

POSTAL TREATY.

The treaty just completed between the Postoffice Departments of England and the United States, reduces the postage on single letters from twenty-four to twelve cents, and for other mailable matter, such as newspapers, maps, books, &c., six cents per forty ounces.

FROM RICHMOND.

Rescue of a Prisoner by Negroes—Registration—French Tobacco Sold.

RICHMOND, July 10.—Last night, in Petersburg, about two hundred negroes assembled at the cars and rescued from the Sheriff of Nansemond county, a negro convicted of felony, who was being brought to the Penitentiary here. They made the Sheriff produce the keys to the handcuffs and then made off with the prisoner. The negro was arrested by the police of Petersburg this morning and brought to the Penitentiary.

The majority of negroes registered in in this city, so far, is 1,700.

The French tobacco seized as captured property by the Government, and for which the Rothschilds are suing, was sold to-day by the United States Treasury Agent, the money to be kept until the suit is decided. There were three hundred and nineteen hogsheads.

FROM CANADA.

"Greenhorns" in a Coal Pit.

A "local" of the Dispatch yesterday, under the above caption, gave his experience in a coal pit. We quote the word "greenhorns," as applicable in the premises. The "local" was one of the "greenhorns." He tells of his enjoyment of the "invigorating air" of Coal Hill, and of his conclusion, at sight of an opportunity, to make a trip into the bowels of the aforesaid hill, something after the style of his more youthful days, when the cry of "cut behind" was followed by the crack of the driver's lash. In "hovering about" a coal pit entrance he discovered a boy driving a mule drawing three cars, and contrary to his boyish proclivities, asked permission to ride. This granted he entered the pit, "tackled on" to the hindmost car. The ride, he says, was "comfortable enough," being "especially cool," and he "enjoyed it immensely" as long as the "entrance was in sight," and when that disappeared from view he thought of his mother and felt as if he "wanted to go home." He became exercised lest he might suffer from sudden compression of his fertile brain, and mentally rehearsed the account which brother locals might give of his demise from a fall of "horseback." Such reflection did not abate his fears "by any means," which must have amounted to absolute terror when his efforts to "communicate with the driver [of the mule] were fruitless." But we have his word for it, that "all this was nothing, compared with the sensation [he] experienced, when our course changed, and the entrance was hid from view, leaving us in total darkness." He must have suffered immensely, and had it been known in the outside world that this "greenhorn in a coal pit" was thus imperilled, what a sensation there would have been. But he says further, in endeavoring with his "feeble pen" to describe his feelings: "Every one is acquainted with the experience of a person, when the dim foreboding of a sudden transition from this sphere seizes on his mind—how quick the thoughts flash through his brain." Thus, he says, it was with him. Those who have had the "experience" will appreciate, but that this "experience" is as general as "greenhorn" says, we have some doubt. "He first thought of getting off the car and walking back," but saw the stupidity of the idea. "How could we," he inquires, "through the pitchy darkness find our way to the point from which we might obtain a view of the opening!" Imagine, sympathizing reader, his situation. What "thoughts flashed through his brain" as the "dim foreboding of a sudden transition from this sphere" seized upon him. Out of the fullness of his terror, he says, "we heartily wished we were back." What a picture that of a la Dundreary whiskered phiz must have presented as he realized that he was "advancing farther and further from" the pit mouth. Thus having worked up the agony of himself, "greenhorn" at this point endeavors to make out that his companion was as badly scared as himself. Hear him: "It was evident that our companion was getting quite heartsick; but he did not mention it, although the words he uttered, either playfully or indifferently, seemed to stick slightly in his throat." Having endeavored to describe his feelings, "greenhorn" acknowledges his shortcoming. Hear him: "It were impossible for our feeble pen to describe the sensation felt on this our first passage through the chimerean darkness of a narrow, contracted coal pit, nearly a mile in length." As "thoughts dashed through his brain," and when he had made up his mind "that we must stick to the car and take the consequences," he says, "we felt in a very pitiable condition, indeed, and kept for the most part in silent meditation." "Greenhorn" thus far speaks of the pit as nearly a mile in length, but in further writing up his experience, says he was informed "at first" that the length was three miles, and having traversed about half of that distance, he felt "rather unsafe," implying that his fears had not been previously excited. In further dissecting the "heavy sensation" of "greenhorn," we discover him saying that when a mile and a half, according to his judgment, into the bowels of the earth, he "actually began to compute the precise point at which he might expect to fall off." In his "silent meditation" our friend "greenhorn" seems to have suffered annoyance from his companion, who "wanted to talk incessantly, something like the boy who whistled to keep his courage up." "At one time when things felt desperate," says 'greenhorn,' "we tried to smoke, and attempted to ignite a match for the purpose on the tailboard of the car. The light came, but as suddenly went out." In his fears from "horseback" and "bad air," he seems not to have taken into account his possible taking off from "fire damp." But we will not speak further of the sensation of "greenhorns in a coal pit," written by one of them. The writer concludes by stating he has vowed solemnly that before again journeying through a coal pit, he will first make sure of the length and other details. Anticipating the charge that he is afflicted with weak nerves, "greenhorn" says those who have never yet went through a long pit had better try it, when they will find it 'no joque.'" We suggest that "greenhorn," since he has experienced the dangers of a coal pit, and communed with spirits, take a journey heavenward in a balloon, in order that he may contemplate his sudden taking off from a more exalted position, with more pleasant surroundings, at least with more light on the subject, taking care to give due notice ere he takes his aerial flight, in order that his friends may realize in advance the expected danger and read with due appreciation his happy escape. In the meantime, let a record be made of the adventure of "greenhorns in a coal pit," for the benefit of posterity, as a reminiscence of the present enlightened age. Particularity should be observed as to the identical pit, name of the driver of the mule, &c., &c., &c.

South Side Items.

By a trip to the South Side yesterday we collected a number of items, of which the following were before Justice J. P. Helsel, of East Birmingham.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE.

George Nicholas made information against Jacob and Fredrick Ott, charging them with aggravated assault and battery. He alleges that one of them struck him with a pop bottle and the other with a fence rail, and after knocking him down dragged him around the street. The parties reside in Lower St. Clair township. Warrants were issued, the parties arrested and held for Court.

George Gamroth made oath against John McClurg, for assault and battery, alleging that the defendant met him on the street in East Birmingham, where the parties reside, and struck him in the face with his fist. A warrant was issued and the defendant arrested and brought to the Justice's office, where the affair was settled by the defendant paying the costs, and promising to behave himself in a respectable manner in the future.

Christopher Lippman, of East Birmingham, lodged an information against Joseph Dettman, of that place, charging him with assault and battery. He alleges that the defendant struck his, the prosecutor's, son, a little boy about eleven years of age, and that after striking him with his fist he kicked him down stairs. A warrant was issued and defendant arrested. The case was settled, however, before a hearing, the defendant paying the costs.

George Breakiron charged George Morley with assault and battery, and in his information alleges that Morley struck him with his fist and knocked him down an embankment six feet high, and kicked him after he was down. Morley was arrested, and after a hearing held in three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court.

ASSAULT.

Henry Merkle made information against William Smith, charging him with assault. He alleges that defendant drew a knife and attempted to cut him, the prosecutor, and that he threatened to kill him; he believed that he was only prevented from carrying said threats into execution by some persons who happened to be present. A warrant was issued, the defendant arrested and held in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

Jacob Ott, of Lower St. Clair township, who was arrested and held in three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court for committing an assault and battery on Geo. Nicholas, made information against Nicholas for surety of the peace, alleging that the defendant drew a knife on him, and threatened to cut his heart out. Nicholas was arrested and held in three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court.

Susan McGovern charges Bridget Corely with surety of the peace, alleging in her information that Bridget threatened to kill her, and that she feared that she would carry her threat into execution, unless properly restrained by the strong arm of the law. Lest Bridget might do Susan some great bodily injury, the Justice issued a warrant for her, upon which she was arrested, and after a hearing held in three hundred dollars for her appearance at Court to answer the charge.

Elizabeth Morton made information against Adam Krans, charging him with surety of the peace, and alleging in her information that the defendant drove his buggy against her, and broke her umbrella, shoved her down, and did otherwise injure and abuse her. A warrant was issued, the defendant arrested, when the matter was compromised, the defendant paying for the umbrella and the costs.

The following cases were before Justice Ammon:

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Charles Ruffing made information against Jacob Sebastian, charging him with assault and battery, and alleging in the information that the defendant struck him in the face with his fist, and knocked him down. A warrant was issued.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

Rinehart Allstone was arrested on a warrant issued on oath of Joseph Munbaum, charging him with surety of the peace. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant threatened to take his life. The matter was compromised by the defendant paying the costs.

Committed.

William Durst made information before Alderman John Robinson, of Allegheny, against Thomas Gorman, charging him with larceny. After a hearing Gorman was committed in default of three hundred dollars bail to answer at Court.

Justice J. E. Smith, of Etna, Shaler township, committed "a suspicious looking character with a black mustache, who refused to tell his name, charged before said Justice with being drunk and an imposter, on the view of the Justice, for twenty days, and you, the said keeper, are hereby required to receive the said suspicious character into your custody, in the said jail, and him there safely keep until discharged by due process of law." The "suspicious looking character" referred to in the above commitment was no other than the notorious old "vag," "Bob" Kearney.

The Wool Trade.

The Beaver Argus says:—"The wool trade of our own locality is growing more brisk than we supposed it would some two weeks ago. A good deal of wool is just now finding its way into market, and it is very likely that within the next two weeks a large majority of the farmers of our county will have disposed of their clips, notwithstanding the low prices they are receiving for it. Messrs. Orr & Dawson, of this place, commenced buying a few days ago, and we believe have already stored away some 15,000 pounds. At other points in the county, the same rush to sell prevails. The price paid varies but little from what was offered at the beginning of the season, viz., from 40 to 50 cents per pound."

The Washington Reporter says: "The wool trade of our county may be said to have hardly yet commenced. Buyers have been on the lookout, and have succeeded in making a few purchases of small lots at about fifty cents per pound. The finer clips are all unsold, and our farmers generally, but very few of whom are so pressed for means as to be compelled to sell, appear to be disposed to hold on for better figures."

The Greene county Republican says: "Little or nothing is being done in the wool trade in this county. Fine wool has not yet been placed in the market, and we hear of but few sales of course or common. Prices range from 45 to 60 cents for the latter. It is probable the trade will not open brisk till after harvest."

The Steubenville Herald says: The wool market in this city, is without animation. The ruling price for full blood, is 50 cents, though we have reports of some sales of extra at higher figures. The Cadiz Republican, of this week, reports, about 100,000 pounds purchased in Harrison county last week at an average of 50 cents per pound. The market is steady but not brisk. In Brook county, West Virginia, wool growers are holding on to their clips with a view of getting better prices. The Wooster Republican reports the wool market brisk, at that place, and wool selling at 40 to 45 cents. The Miami Gazette (Warren county) reports the price of wool in that neighborhood from 30 to 40 cents."

Arrest of a Swindler.

For some days past a young man, giving his name as Robert Brown, has been doing a collecting business on "his own hook," by visiting several of the prominent business houses of the city and representing himself as collector for the firm of Messrs. W. G. Johnston & Co., book dealers, No. 57 Wood street, and Messrs. Jarvis, Halpin & Co., plumbers, on Fourth street, below Market, for both of which he has succeeded in collecting money. A day or two ago the authorized collector of Messrs. Johnston & Co., on going to a store to make a collection, was shown the bill receipted by Robert Brown. He obtained a description of young Brown, and went to the store of Messrs. Dinm, Gregg & Co., corner of Wood street and Diamond alley. There he was told that a young man answering Brown's description had been there, but had been told to come back yesterday. One of the firm of Johnston & Co., was informed of these facts and requested that when Brown should return he might be at once arrested. He returned yesterday morning about half-past nine o'clock. Mr. Johnston was immediately notified, and had him arrested. Information for obtaining money under false pretences was immediately made by Mr Johnston, and the prisoner was locked up for a hearing.

Subsequently Mr. Halpine, of Jarvis, Halpine & Co., made a similar charge against him. Brown is a youth of about seventeen years. He says he thinks he lives on Morris street, in the Ninth ward, and that he came from Westmoreland county here, and "believes" he came from Iowa. He states also that he once worked for Johnston & Co., but those gentlemen say they never saw him before.

Liquor Licenses Granted and Refused.

During the last four months there were two hundred and seven licenses granted in Pittsburgh, and fifty-two refused. In Allegheny, during the same time, there were sixty-nine granted and twelve refused. In the boroughs, seventy-six were granted and twenty-seven refused. In the townships one hundred and twenty-one were granted and thirty-nine rejected. Altogether, for the time mentioned, four hundred and seventy-three applications were granted, and one hundred and thirty refused, making a total of six hundred and three applications. The amount of money realized from the granting of these licenses during the months of March, April and May was $42,326 78, one half of which, $21,163.39, is for the benefit of the Allegheny County Work House and Inebriate Asylum, and the other half for the State. The number of applications granted during those months reaching 411, the average amount realized from each license is a little over one hundred dollars.

Painting and Graining.

House and sign painting is a business that of late years has received a greater amount of attention, perhaps, than any other calling of a similar character. The improvements achieved in this branch are almost beyond conception, yet the city of Pittsburgh, we are pleased to say, has kept pace with the foremost. To be convinced of this it is only necessary to call upon Mr. John T. Gray, house and sign painter, grainer and glazier, at No 54 Hand street, whose work is sufficient evidence of the fact. Mr. Gray employs none but the best workmen and uses nothing but the best material, and as a natural consequence his work is always satisfactory. He is prepared to do work in all branches of the business, from painting an ornamental sign to glazing a window, at short notice and upon reasonable terms; and should any of our readers need the services of a painter, they will find it to their advantage to give him a call.

Bold Robbery.

The Altoona Tribune says: "A few days ago parties on the cars between Cresson and Gallitzin obtained $800,00 from an old gentleman, and at Gallitzin attempted to escape with their booty. The alarm was soon raised that the money had been stolen from him. Dr. S. J. Christy, late Mayor of Oil City, with others, made chase, and after a considerable heat overhauled two men and obtained the money from them. They were brought before Esq. Craig, and it appearing from the statement of Dr Christy that one of the men gave up the money, and the old man stating that he had loaned the money in good faith, that he was to get it again at Altoona, and that the parties did not really steal it, no further proceedings were taken in the matter."

Before Alderman Thomas.

Rachael Hussey, of Woods Run, complained before Alderman Thomas, desiring the arrest of one George Jones for surety of the peace and assault and battery. A warrant was issued.

Mary Ross made information against Alice Kelly, and also against John Kelly, of the Eighth ward, for assault and battery.

Robert Preston was arrested on Tuesday and taken before Alderman Thomas on a charge of deserting his wife, Mary Ann Preston, and refusing to support her. After a hearing, in default of five hundred dollars bail for his appearance at court, he was committed to jail. He afterwards procured the necessary security and was released.

West Virginia Oil Regions.

The Parkersburg Times, of Thursday, says: Within a couple of weeks past a great change for the better is apparent at Burning Springs, and active operations have increased four-fold. On last Friday the Randolph well commenced to flow about one hundred barrels per day up to last evening. The well of the Paint Creek and Ritchie County Oil and Mining Company No. 2, known as the Crane well, commenced to flow one hundred and fifty barrels of oil per day, about a week since, and by dispatch last evening we learn that it was still flowing one hundred barrels. The Rice well is doing handsomely, and the Newberger and Bradon well has latterly increased its production nearly double. Here is a grain of comfort for despairing.

Two Medals to Steinway.

A cable telegram, dated Paris, July 4th, informed the Messrs. Steinway & Sons, of New York, that, in addition to the First Gold Medal of Merit awarded to them by the International Jury at the Universal Exposition, the Societe des Beaux Arts, after a careful examination and comparison of all the piano fortes exhibited, awarded to Messrs. Steinway & Sons their Grand Testimonial Medals for greatest perfection and novelty of construction in grand, square, and upright pianos. This voluntary testimonial, from a society of such high standing, is only second in importance to the verdict of the International Jury.

Accident.

At a picnic near Titusville, on the Fourth, a hollow tree was set on fire by a bunch of fire crackers, which had been thrown into it, and fell over against another tree in close proximity to the table where the party were seated eating. The latter tree fell lengthwise of the table, striking Miss Mills, daughter of Major Mills, of the American Hotel, and breaking one of her legs in two places. The tree had to be chopped apart at the spot where she was lying before she could be released. A gentleman was also injured.

Somnambulism.—A telegraph operator at Pithole, who is given to walking in his sleep, was found lying upon the ground in an insensible condition one night last week. It is supposed that he fell from his bed room window while attempting to step out upon the side walk. He is severely hurt, but will recover.

At Lancaster on Thursday night about eleven o'clock, a young man named John B. Stewart, boarding at Funk's hotel, got up in his sleep and sprang from a third story window. His fall was luckily broken by the limbs of a tree in front of the building, and his injuries were not serious, no bones being broken.

A Fatal Accident happened to a lad named Robert Scott, at Rochester, Beaver county, on the Fourth. He had purchased a half pound of powder, which he carried with some fire-crackers and matches in his pocket. When at the corner of New York and Water streets, the matches ignited, causing the powder to explode and burning him fearfully. He sprang into the river and extinguished the fire. He lingered until three o'clock Saturday morning, when he died of his injuries.

Pick Pockets.—Mrs. Boardman, a boarding house keeper on Penn street, had her pocket picked of a wallet containing $14 60, while making purchases in the market on Tuesday. She did not discover her loss until just as she was about leaving the market, and by that time the thief who stole the money was doubtless spending some of it. Some effort was made to recover the cash, but no trace of it could be found, and before Mrs. Boardman could pay for her marketing, she had to return home for more money.

Passing Away—A Venerable Citizen Gone.

The connecting links which join the present generation with the past are rapidly passing into the darkness of the grave. To-day we have to chronicle the death of Mr George Lighthill, Senr., one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Allegheny, which took place from old age yesterday morning. The deceased was born in this city in 1782, on the site where now stands the Exchange National Bank building. He had in his boyhood days hunted raccoons and squirrels in parts of the city now most densely populated. From a few rude houses nestled together in an unassuming village, he has watched the growth of a great manufacturing city, which is now known and famed throughout the world. In the war of 1812, in Captain Ferree's company, he accompanied Gen. Harrison in his memorable campaign through the Maumee country. For the past sixty-five years he has resided on the banks of the Allegheny river, now in the Fifth ward of that city. He leaves a large number of descendants and a host of friends and acquaintances to mourn his death. The funeral will take place this afternoon at four o'clock, from the residence of his son, Mr. John Lighthill, Rebecca street, Allegheny.

Chickering Triumphant.

To the Editor of the Chicago Evening Journal:

Our competitors allege that the decoration of the cross of the Legion of Honor awarded to Messrs. Chickering, in addition to the grand gold medal, was a "compliment not offered by the Exposition, or possible to be conferred by its juries." Not offered! Indeed it was! Who by? The Exposition. To whom? Chickering. We know it was not offered Steinway by the Exposition, so that their assertion would have been perfectly correct had they excepted Chickering. "Not possible to be conferred by its juries!" True, to the Emperor Napoleon alone belonged the right of conferring. But the Imperial Commission, the jury doale, did recommend that this great honor should be conferred on the Messrs. Chickering, and it was conferred. Thus, with a grand gold medal equal in merit to any (five equal medals in every respect having been awarded), and the ADDITIONAL award of the grand cross, and given to no other piano exhibitor, makes the Chickering award supreme. Our competitors sneer at the cross of the Legion of Honor! We know they have just cause for it. It is a fact that both Messrs. Chickering and Steinway have had sufficient to cross them. The former crossed by the Emperor and Imperial Commission. The latter crossed by ill-contending circumstances. Chickering awarded an inferior medal! Not much.

All the medals being of equal merit, which is authentic, the report would stand thus:

To Chickering,	To Steinway,
Best Piano,	Best Piano,
GOLD MEDAL.	GOLD MEDAL.

TO CHICKERING:
BEST-ER PIANO,
GRAND CROSS LEGION OF HONOR.

Cure of Fistula.

DR. KEYSER—I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harrassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease up on the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure, and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I felt it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, J—— C——.

Election of Teachers in the Third and Tenth Wards.—At a meeting of the Boards of Directors of the Third and Tenth wards, on the 1st inst., the following teachers were elected for the ensuing year: Principal, George J. Lucky; Teachers, Misses Mary McKelvy, Jennie Hastings, Sarah Crooks, Emma Smith, N. F. Hebron, Mattie McKnight, Jennie Mitchell, Lizzie M. Crooks, Belle S. Bovard, Fannie Caughey, Lis McClaren, Esther Johnston, Sarah Hunter, Mattie Graham, Sarah Wallace, Emma Young; Janitor, James O'Brien.

Malicious Mischief.—Ann O'Neil, at No. 40 Fennell street, made information before Alderman Morrow, against Samuel Wilson, a resident of Crawford street, charging him with malicious mischief. She alleges that she sent a dress to the house of Mr Wilson to be repaired, Mrs. W. being a dress maker, and that the defendant wilfully and maliciously threw the dress in the fire, when it was burned up. A warrant was issued, the defendant arrested and held for a hearing.

Navigation Suspended.—Navigation on the Monongahela has been suspended between Pittsburgh and Brownsville on account of a break in Lock No. 4 in the repairing of which it is necessary to draw the water from Pool No 3. The only boat now running is the Elizabeth, plying between this city and Elizabeth. The Company are taking advantage of the dull times and making general repairs along the whole line, and in a few weeks everything will be in good order.

Groundless Fears.—The Lancaster Express says: The alarm which prevailed at our Poor House during last week, and which was occasioned by the death during the past eight days of some ten inmates, from some disease supposed to be infectious, has entirely subsided. There are only two persons now down with the malady, both of whom will recover. The disease, it has been ascertained, was produced by local causes, which have been removed.

Larceny.—Dr. James Robinson made information before Justice Jancey, of Lawrenceville, against Joseph Ludgate, charging him with larceny. He alleges that defendant came into his house and abstracted some shawls therefrom, and when the defendant was arrested he was attempting to trade them for whisky. He was committed to jail in default of three hundred dollars bail to answer at Court.

Larceny by Bailee.—A. J. Baird made information before Alderman Strain against John Donavan, charging him with larceny by bailee. The prosecutor resides at No. 48 Seventh street, and he alleges that the defendant received personal property from him, to sell, and that he sold the same and appropriated the proceeds to his own use. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

New Oil Strike.—A new well on Lease 2, Ross Farm, says the Petroleum Centre Era, was struck on Saturday night, since which time it has pumped about one hundred and fifty barrels. As soon as tanks can be constructed the well will be allowed to flow, when it is predicted the yield will exceed three hundred barrels.

Found.—Three pairs of heavy morocco boots, tipped with patent leather, were found in a sand pile, in Hardscrabble, by Officer Brown. The boots are supposed to have been stolen and concealed there, and were left at Alderman Morrow's office, in the Eighth ward, for identification.

Venerable Horses.—George Young, in Northampton county, is the owner of a team of four horses whose aggregate number of years amounts to ninety-six. The leader is twenty-six; the saddle horse twenty-four; two others twenty-three years each.

Two Japanese Naval Officers, with unpronounceable names, visited the city yesterday, inspected the Fort Pitt gun works, and made observations of matters in general. They put up at the Monongahela House, leaving last night for the West.

Cheese.—Geauga, Ohio, is a great milk region. The total amount of cheese manufactured in that county during the year 1866, as shown by the returns of the township assessors, was 6,358,577 pounds.

Pic Nic.—The Sixth Presbyterian Church Sabbath School will hold a Pic-Nic at McFarland's Grove to-morrow. Trains will leave the Union Depot in the morning at eight o'clock.

Fire—Loss $5,000—No Insurance.

This morning, between one and two o'clock, the large double two-story frame stable of David Hutchinson, brickmaker, on the corner of Stevenson and Bluff streets, in the Eighth ward, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm from box 43 was promptly sounded, but before the fire department arrived the building was reduced to ashes and in it perished seven valuable draught horses. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and from the rapid spread of the flames it is presumed it was ignited in several different places. In addition to the horses, the stable contained about fifteen hundred dollars worth of finished building materials, two tons of hay, and some eight or ten complete sets of harness. Mr. Hutchinson's loss will approximate five thousand dollars, on which he has not a single dollar of insurance. He offers a large reward for the detection and conviction of the incendiary, who is believed to be the same person who recently destroyed a kiln of bricks in the yards, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars on Mr Hutchinson. The fire illuminated the heavens, and a large number of persons were attracted to the vicinity.

Sudden Death.—The Beaver Argus says: On Friday morning last, an infant child of Mr John Clark, of this place, died very suddenly. The attending physicians, we understand, attribute its death to laughing gas inhaled by its mother the day before while having some teeth extracted in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Sievrett and Wife left yesterday for an European tour. They will be absent about two months.

UNION REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT:

HON. HENRY W. WILLIAMS,
Of Allegheny County.

THE MEXICAN BUTCHERIES.

Among all the nations of the earth Treason has been, and still is, rated a capital offence. The lower the condition of civilization of a particular age or country, the more rigidly has this penalty been enforced; and it may be remarked that in proportion as any government rests on assumption, defying and setting at naught the essential and natural rights of man, the less compunction does it evince in putting to death all who rise up in arms against it. But, so long as military power shall be recognized as a legitimate instrumentality for maintaining social or civil order, and so long as capital punishment shall be retained for the higher grade of crimes against private persons or property, it is not conceivable that the infliction of death for Treason will be entirely abrogated.

Treason was once defined by Mr. ANDREW JOHNSON to be "the highest crime known to the laws;" and so it is. This is just as true under the most oppressive and infamous despotisms, as under governments deriving authority normally from the will of the people, and wielding that authority beneficently for the common good of all the citizens. Hence it happens that while Treason is always denounced in the statutes as the highest of crimes, it is sometimes the most sacred of duties laid upon individuals, inspiring them to encounter all hazards in efforts to promote the public welfare.

When a tempest sweeps over a nation, stirring its passions to such a depth as to lead millions of men to take up arms against the constituted authorities and to maintain a doubtful contest through a succession of years, it is manifest that some profounder and more pervading motive than personal ambition controlled the movement. There must be convictions that run their roots down through all the foundation rocks of society. These convictions may be baseless, or without adequate support; but they are not criminal in any sense that would justify the putting to death of all who share in them. Such movements in society do not spring up suddenly. Ordinarily they are of slow growth. Nor do leaders create, however potential they may be in directing the current when fairly started. Leaders are produced or evolved by the movement, instead of the movement resulting from the craft or courage of the leaders. Sometimes a prodigious upheaval occurs, as in Europe in 1848, and not a leader appears with wisdom and strength enough to meet the crisis. In France, between 1789 and 1815, an agitation begun a century before, came to a head, various crops of leaders appearing and disappearing as the popular frenzy developed. The leaders were the merest accidents or incidents, until NAPOLEON I. arose. The recent movement in our Southern States commenced before most of those who participated in it were born. If leaders are to be held to account for it, we must pass by the present generation of Southern statesmen, and bring up from the graves in which they were laid with honor, a preceding generation. Not Mr. DAVIS, but Mr. CALHOUN, should be sent to the gallows, or be brought before a file of soldiers. But the conflict was one of institutions rather than of men. The seeds of the struggle were embedded in the organization of the government. The attempt to wed Freedom and Slavery was preposterous, and resulted in an explosion. The disorder existing in Mexico was not born this year. The present generation of people in that country received these disorders by inheritance from their fathers.

Recently we heard a Calvanistic clergyman discourse upon the atonement during which he branched off into an episode on Treason. He insisted that equally in human as in the Divine government, punishment for crimes could not be remitted, but must be borne either by the offender in person or by a vicarious substitute; that as substitution was not recognized in human governments, pardon was impossible, and consequently no provision was made for its exercise; hence, all persons who had committed Treason, and had thereby exposed themselves to punishment must be brought to trial and be put to death. The preacher is a man of more than ordinary capacities and training, and that he managed to live in ignorance of the fact that clemency is an essential attribute of government, and that no people have ever submitted to a government in which the power of pardon was unknown, may be taken as an illustration of the unaccountable manner which devotion to a theory will blind a man to the perception of the most palpable facts, standing plumply in front of him.

The Mexicans come as near believing in the right and duty of putting every citizen to death who has been guilty of treason, as any other people that exist or have ever existed. Every man of them has committed treason; some of them a dozen times. This is why their chief employment for the last thirty years has consisted in killing each other. If the theory that all treason absolutely merits death is sound, then they are correct in their conduct, and the sooner they succeed in butchering each other, so that not one shall be left alive, the speedier will justice be satisfied. This, of itself, shows that the logic they use is defective. While the set that have recently obtained the upper hand are staining the whole of that beautiful land with blood, in pretended punishment of incivism, and creating a reign of terror scarcely surpassed in history, the whole civilized world is appalled and starts back in horror. In England the men who have called loudest for vengeance on the Fenian insurrectionists; in Austria, the men who have demanded the harshest measures against the exasperated and turbulent Poles and Magyars; in the United States, the men who have most savagely counselled terrible retributions upon the heads of the Southern rebels; are all filled with amazement at what the Mexican liberals are now doing. So much easier is it for men to see an excess in others than in themselves.

What is Mexico gaining by the brutal executions of which she is made the theatre? No dispassionate spectator can imagine for one moment that the liberties of that unhappy country can be cemented in this fashion by the blood of its sons. A powerful monarchy has sometimes trampled out the manliness of a conquered province by wholesale slaughters; but more often transformed a temporary inconvenience into a perpetual peril. It does not require profound wisdom to discover that the Mexicans are now "treasuring up wrath against the day of wrath." What she is sowing she will surely reap. These multitudinous executions will produce another crop of such, one year or ten years hence, when the wheel of fortune shall have brought the faction which is now at the bottom to the top once more.

Is it not time for those in the United States who are clamoring for more blood, more confiscations, and more proscriptions, to stop, and seriously consider to what end these measures, if adopted, would necessarily tend?

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTIONS have recently convened in most, if not all, of the Southern States. That pressure of lynch law whereby the Democrats made the Republican party sectional, not in its principles, but in its organization, having been removed, that party naturally spreads itself over the whole country.

INVESTIGATION---NO. 3.

In an article by Mr. Beecher, published in the New York Ledger, 20th of March, 1865, it is fully conceded, as the public mind has always been impressed, that General Harrison and General Taylor, a short time subsequently to their inauguration, were poisoned. At the close of his administration, and in good health, Mr. Polk left Washington for home, but before he reached his destination he died by the same means as two of his predecessors. Many of the eminent men of the country have stood in the way of demagogues and traitors, and have been suddenly and prematurely cut off. Douglas, after the election of Lincoln, traversed the Southern States from Washington to New Orleans, to propitiate the good will of the South for Lincoln. In his speeches on that tour he expressed many patriotic sentiments, and among these were one on the then issues before the people, that there were but two parties, one patriots and the other traitors. This was not agreeable to those whom he addressed and he died on his return. Woe to the man who then expressed sentiments that the slave aristocracy deemed heretical. Gov. Shunk, a short time after entering on his second executive term, was suddenly cut off because he would not blindly obey those who usurped the authority to prescribe executive duty. We might here rest amazed and confounded, that the best should be thus afflicted and destroyed, but when we turn our attention to Stanton and Grant, as included in the plot for the assassination of President Lincoln, will not feeling, as well as duty, say we should proceed. These criminal scenes, and the attempt on Secretary Seward, will command our grave attention. Those deeply studied and secretly arranged atrocities are only a few among the thousands against the best men of the land. These reflections ought to bring home to every man's bosom a careful investigation of the means employed for the destruction of life. It is within the recollection of all that an attempt by a partially displaced switch was made to throw a special train from the track that conveyed General Grant from Indianapolis to Cincinnati, which only so far succeeded as to prove the intention. The same was attempted on General Sherman. The baser sort do not like such men to travel and receive the gratulations of the people; it is their favorites only that may travel unmolested.

If such hellish purposes are pursued to destroy eminent men, why is not resort had to the easier mode of poisoning? So it is, when it can be accomplished. The bowl was prepared for Lincoln in Baltimore, but want of opportunity defeated the purpose; and also for Johnson in Washington, but perhaps produced vomiting and sufficient was not retained to produce paralysis of the brain, and the design failed.

After he was elected President, and before his inauguration, you may all recollect the efforts that were made to drive from an association with James Buchanan those friends of the country and of mankind whom he intended to bring with him into power for the discharge of public duty. When domineering insolence would not avail, resort was had to poisoning. This has always been called the national poisoning. The Southern traitors then succeeded in driving away from him all those who would not be their pliant tools, and substituted such men as Floyd and Yancey, and those of similar proclivities, who would assist in the overthrow of the government, and compel the righteous and the just of the country to support voluptuousness, villainy and crime. Some of the New York papers denounced in unmeasured terms the murderers accessory to that scheme, who wanted to divert public attention by dead rats and foul sewers. If the papers would keep the public mind on the alert, and not permit it to dwell on the imprudent fabrications of the guilty, those privy to these crimes would more frequently be brought to condign punishment. Many Congressmen who partook of the dead rat and foul sewer effluvia were obliged to seek elsewhere medical treatment for their restoration to health. The effluvia sickened nobody in the neighborhood but those who partook of the bountiful fare of the nation. All those concerned are most active in covering up every trace of the true cause, and will impudently deride those who would disclose the cause or the means by which their crimes are accomplished. By their uniform success in the destruction of the health and lives of those who stood in the way of their political control and self aggrandisement, they could pre-determine who should be their favorite instruments and on whom nominally to confer political power.

To remove all those who are most likely to be prominent and popular in the councils of adverse political parties is an easy task. They leave no political strategy untried to prove how far they can depend on those whom they can shout into popularity, and by a constant array of particular names and facts the unsuspecting are betrayed into a support of their delusive apothegms. Nor do they fail, on the other hand, to present for their proved tools persons for political promotion by adverse parties from whose eventual success there is little to fear. On either hand, the enemies of good government stand prepared to remove anything that stands in the way, and their minions who work to that end are legion. To overwhelm them in despair and defeat them in every purpose they attempt to consummate, it is only necessary to defend against the sugar-coated missiles from the Mortars of the Pharmaceutists, manned by fiends and directed by the Arch-Fiend himself. "When we walk in the sunlight of Fame we are followed by the shadow of Envy."

Whole families in this community have been stricken from the rolls of mortality for no other reason than that they would not be the tools of designing men and stood in the way of their advancement. These families were too highly esteemed, the brightness of their character shed too much light on surrounding scenes, and too clearly exposed to view the conduct of those who delighted in leveling downward the virtuous and the just. The most ignorant soon ascertain that the light by which they are seen at all, is the reflection from those whose intellectual cultivation sheds light upon them, and they despise the contrast brought out in bold relief, and hate those who incontinently keep up the illustration. The upright and the virtuous shrink with horror from the admission that the human family would find within its bosom incarnate fiends, who would perpetrate by poison such iniquities by disease and death on their companions in life. They believe that such an admission would degrade the whole family of mankind, and that all must sink together by the universal relationship of man. Aye, but there is a closer relationship between the created and the Creator, and we should rather sink our relationship with the whole family of man, than to forfeit our birth-right.

If it be difficult to admit that all the sufferings of man proceed from the fiendish spirit of those who would swell with malignant hate and ascribe high merit to themselves on the increased number of their victims, how much more difficult is it to admit that the Supreme Author of all our happiness should afflict the most intelligent and sensitive of all His creation with all the forms of disease daily witnessed. The belief that the Author of all our happiness is the Author of all our sufferings would be monstrous. It would weaken our love for our Creator and our belief in Christianity. The only created beings who could appreciate the grandeur and admire the beauties of creation, that he should be so afflicted with disease as to despise all creation and abhor himself, would seem to subvert the very object of his creation, the adoration of his Maker. Our immortal being, made by omniscient wisdom in the beauty and perfection of its construction, bearing the image of Him who made it, far transcending all other parts of creation in intellectual capacity and in social intercourse—that it should be subjected daily to disease and suffering, can only be believed by the superstitious. To those who would rather reign in hell than serve in heaven we must look for the cause of all our woe, to the fiend incarnate. The legitimate practitioner has frequently effected the prostration of all the voluntary muscles of the maniac, and to that the faculty has raised no objection. So also might the same effect be limited to certain muscles only and be at pleasure produced. The case of Maria Louisa might be taken as an instance, for it acquired a world wide notoriety, and civilization paused. We may suppose the inference that France or those who held her destinies in their hand, and a few years theretofore had conducted the guillotine, had predetermined that no dynasty should ever be established on the throne of France. Despite that determination a son afterwards was born and known in Austria as the Duke de Reichstadt. The opinion has been entertained by some that to prevent future contests for the throne of Austria and France he was disposed of by poison.

Royal households of the most eminent of this or any other country have not been exempt from the insidious artifices of those who employ toxicological practice for the removal of those who stand in the way of aggrandizement. From what the present age has witnessed in Italy and Mexico that pre-determination may eventually be fully illustrated, for it is probable she will never again permit a Catholic to sit upon her throne. It is even possible that the present occupant may close the roll of her kings.

FASHIONABLE.

—Many of the handsome bridal presents exhibited at so-called fashionable wedding receptions in New York, are hired of a dealer, who makes quite a living out of it.

—Lord Cowley asked the Micawdor of Japan if he was learning to dance; the Prince made the excellent reply: "I have a great many other things to learn before learning to dance."

—Hats for country wear are made in the large Shepherdess style, made of English or Tuscan straw, and trimmed with a wreath of hawthorn and a plait of velvet, the ends of which hang low down the back.

—The last novelty in straw hats is the Marianne. It has straw strings, tied at the back, and it is trimmed at the sides with black Mechlin lace ends, and satin bows, with a variegated tulip hanging over the left ear.

—The last novelty in hair dressing are the long plaits each side of the head, tied at the ends with ribbon, a coil of hair for chignon, and four thick curls descending the back from underneath the chignon. False hair is in great demand.

—Very pretty hats are made of rice straw and of fine straw beaded; the crowns are low and flat, and round them a scarf of either straw colored or white gauze is twisted; the ends are fringed with silk or feather fringe to match the gauze, and at one side there is a rose.

—The fashion of driving—so common among English ladies—has been extensively adopted by the ladies of the ton in New York city, and numerous pretty turnouts are daily seen in the Park and on the avenue, driven by elegantly dressed ladies, with gentlemen attendants on the left side and stately grooms behind.

—J. H. Bradford, a New York millionaire, married Miss Lizzie C. Phipps, a Cincinnati heiress, on Wednesday. She was the belle of the city, handsome, refined and intelligent. But what is more practical, and will excite about as much envy, is the diamond cross presented her by her husband, which cost $40,000.

—Ladies, we presume must have a different style of hat for every hour in the day. We note that hats for women's wear are now made dark, either maroon or black straw; if maroon, they are bordered with velvet to match, and have a small green wing at the side; if black, they are bordered with curled feathers, and have a fancy feather cockade at the side.

—D. A. Cheatham and Mrs. Adelia Acklin, on the evening of the 26th ult., gave a grand reception at Nashville, Tennessee, following their marriage ceremonies. Mrs. Cheatham wore a coronet, the gift of the Emperor and Empress of France, and a girdle with a diamond clasp enriched her waist. Her dress was a rich, heavy flowing white silk, and a magnificent veil of Brussels point lace floated over her shoulders.

—A strange telegraphic freak is reported from New York. About two weeks ago a couple of wires on the New York Central Railroad began to act very unreasonably. At ten o'clock in the morning they would "strike work," and resume at four in the afternoon. A careful examination of the line produced no result. The superintendent himself looked into the matter and saw nothing. It was a complete puzzle. An old Albany operator, however, was more successful. About sixty miles west of that city he found a point where the wires passed over the roof of a building, almost touching it. As the sun rose the wires fell; and at twelve o'clock they lay snugly together on the tin roof. As the sun fell they cooled and rose, and by four o'clock they were in their proper positions. Of course the trouble was rectified.

—The gold medals which the citizens of Worcester will present to the winners in the coming college regatta, will be completed next week, and the die will cost over $400. On one face of the medal is a naval coronet, with a wreath of oak and laurel and crossed flags above, and on the reverse is a representation of the boat's crew engraved from a photograph, and appropriate inscriptions. Besides these, six silver cups, costing $150 will be given to the victors in the freshman race.

—A few nights since, a Rochester woman followed her husband to the house of another married woman, whose husband was out of town. She entered the room where they were, pulled her unfaithful lord out of bed, and beat the woman most unmercifully with her fists. The crest fallen man picked himself up and decamped as soon as he could, followed soon by his wife. The parties are all "respectable."

MR. W. MILLER SAYS:

PITTSBURGH, September 4, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTS—I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits received by me from the use of your Stomach Bitters during the last five years. Sojourning for a time in the oil region, in 1861, I had a severe bilious attack, which, in connection with dyspepsia, left me in a very weak condition. I was advised to try your Bitters, and, having procured a bottle, found that they worked like a charm upon me, eight pounds having been added to my weight in the space of one week, and new life seemed to have been infused into my system, so much so that I have been induced to use them every summer since that time. As a tonic, I think they are invaluable.

This summer, having had a similar attack, (and as before, much reduced,) although under the treatment of an A No. 1 physician, I was again obliged to have recourse to the old Bitters, and with the same good result, having gained six pounds within a few days. I purchased a half dozen bottles a few weeks since, and purpose to use them regularly as a tonic.

Wishing you every success, I remain,
Yours, gratefully,
WILLIAM MILLER.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhoea, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street.

SMITHFIELD, OHIO.

VALUABLE FARM AT PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell to the highest bidder, on the premises, adjoining the village of Smithfield, Jefferson county, Ohio, on the

Fourteenth day of Eighth Month (August) Next,

The old homestead formerly owned and occupied by the late Benjamin W. Ladd, containing 25½ acres, more or less, being one of the best farms in the county, a fair proportion of which is in good timber. The entire balance (except about 6 acres,) is well set in clover, timothy and blue grass. I will offer first the whole tract, reserving the privilege of then trying it divided in two tracts of about 1/2 acres each.

A small payment in cash will be required on day of sale, the remainder divided in payments easy for the purchaser.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock of said day. Possession can be given to most of the farm on the day of sale, the balance about four weeks after.

CAPE MAY.

CAPE ISLAND.

Since the close of 1866 much enterprise has been displayed at this celebrated sea-shore resort. New and magnificent cottages have been erected; the Hotels have been remodeled; a fine park, with a well made one mile drive, has been inaugurated; and in all the essentials of a popular summer resort, a spirit of improvement is largely manifested.

The geographical position of Cape Island is in itself a peculiar feature, when properly understood—Situated at the extreme southern portion of the State, and occupying a neck of land at the confluence of the Delaware Bay with the Atlantic Ocean, it becomes entirely surrounded by salt water, hence favored by continual breezes from the sea.

The bluff furnishes a beautiful view of the Ocean, Delaware Bay, and picturesque back country, taking in Cape Henlopen distinctly at a distance of sixteen miles. The beach is acknowledged to surpass any other point upon the Atlantic coast, being of a smooth, compact and white sand declines so gently to the surf that even a child can bathe with security.

Added to these attractions is the fact that the effect of the Gulf Stream upon this point renders the water comparatively warm—a point not to be overlooked by persons seeking health from ocean bathing.

The distance from Philadelphia to Cape Island is 81 miles by rail, and about the same distance by steamer down the Bay, and by either route the facilities for travel promise to be of the most satisfactory character. The Island has Hotel and Boarding-house accommodations for about ten thousand persons. The leading Hotels are the Columbia House, with GEORGE J. BOLTON as proprietor; Congress Hall, with J. F. CAKE as proprietor, and United States, with WEST & MILLER as proprietors, all under the management of gentlemen who have well established reputations as hotel men.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.

Are now constructing a Railroad from OMAHA, NEBRASKA, westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making, with its connections, an unbroken line

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The Company now offer a limited amount of their

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

Having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the City of New York, at the rate of

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

At Ninety Cents on the Dollar.

This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equipped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connection with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government issues its Six per cent. Thirty year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.

The Company is also permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which BY SPECIAL ACT OF CONGRESS ARE MADE A FIRST MORTGAGE ON THE ENTIRE LINE, the bonds of the United States being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,032,000 acres estimated to be worth $30,000,000, making the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now be realized.

The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars, of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment.

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished, for the month of May, were $261,782. These sectional earnings, as the road progresses, will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expended; on 300 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of

Nine Per Cent.,

And it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds, they will go above par. The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate, and retain the right to advance the price at their option.

Subscriptions will be received in New York by the CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK, No. 7 Nassau St.

CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

AUCTION SALES.

COUNTRY HOMES AT AUCTION.—The subscriber will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, in Robinson township, on THURSDAY, July 18th, 1867, commencing at 2 o'clock p. m., a splendid variety of BUILDING LOTS, desirable for country homes or for gardening purposes, the whole consisting of thirty acres, divided in to eighteen lots, ranging from one to three acres each. These lots are situated on Chartiers creek, two-and-one-half miles from the city, in a fertile and salubrious valley, and but a short distance from the romantic spot known as McKee's Rocks. They are accessible from the city by the Woods' Run Passenger Railway and Ferry to McKee's Rocks, and by the Pittsburgh & Steubenville Railroad, as well as by the Chartiers & Noblestown Turnpike. The position is one of the most healthful and beautiful in the country, and being but a short distance from the city, the opportunity thus offered for outlying a country home or garden spot is a very rare one.

Any person wishing to see the property before the sale, can do so by calling on the subscriber, near the premises, in Chartiers township.

TERMS—One-third cash at time of sale; balance in one and two years, with interest from date of sale. JAS. McGUNNEGLE.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

[SIXTH WEEK.]

This Court met Wednesday at ten o'clock, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the Bench, Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney.

VERDICTS RENDERED.

In the case of William Hanlon, indicted for assault and battery, on oath of Owen Shannon, the jury found a verdict of guilty, recommending the defendant to the mercy of the Court.

In the case of Henry Wistner, Wm. Snare and Charles Reichold, indicted for cruelty to a livery horse, the jury found a verdict of not guilty, prosecutor, George Burnsides, to pay the costs.

WHISKEY CASE.

Ann McCormick, of Versailles township, plead guilty to an indictment (at March term) for selling liquor without license, and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars and the costs.

PLEAD GUILTY.

John Chalfant plead guilty of an assault and battery upon John Herb[illegible]ter, saloon keeper in the Ninth ward, and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars and the costs.

Patrick McGreery, of Fort Perry, plead guilty, and was sentenced to pay the costs for selling liquor without license.

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER.

Herman Handle, David McNight, Casper Richards and John Frey were tried on an indictment for forcible entry and detainer. W. C. Mackey, the prosecutor, testified that the defendants, on the 8th of April last, came to premises in his possession, on Federal street, Allegheny city, broke open the door and took forcible possession, carrying out all his furniture, bar fixtures, liquors, &c., placing the same on the street or pavement. In the investigation of the case it appeared that judgment was obtained before a magistrate against Mackey, for possession of the premises, in pursuance of which possession was taken. Under this state of facts the jury acquitted and required the prosecutor to pay the costs.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

J. B. Harshaw, C. E. Harshaw, and W. H. Bowman, father, son, and son-in-law, were placed on trial on an indictment for aggravated assault and battery, on oath of Henry Busher, seventy years of age. Defendants reside on Smithfield street, between Third and Fourth, and the prosecutor had a sleeping room in the vicinity. Prosecutor stated that on Sunday evening, the 26th of May last, between nine and ten o'clock, as he was going to his room, he heard a noise ahead, and stopped opposite the door of the house or hall from whence it proceeded; the noise appeared to be caused by a woman screaming; he stopped; the noise increased, and presently he heard the voices of two persons, one of whom appearing to have fallen on the floor; he shouted "police," after which all became quiet; he listened for a while, and then started to go to his room; there was a sign at a door similar to the one at the entrance to the building where he roomed, and as he was about to enter, a door alongside of the hall whence the noise proceeded was opened, and there was a light there; he was asked what he wanted, and said he was hunting his room; the reply was that he had no room there; he was then assaulted by the defendants, struck on the head and knocked down; one thumb was knocked out of joint, and he received other injuries. On cross-examination witness stated that he supposed, having been somewhat confused by the noise, that the door alongside the one which opened led to his room, although his room was a square away. He denied that the trouble was caused by his insisting that his room was in defendants' house, and by his catching hold of a young lady there.

L. W. Henry, who was passing about the time, saw two young men (young Harshaw and Bowman) beating the prosecutor, who was shouting "murder" and for all the help he could get; the last blow knocked him down, after which he was kicked; a crowd collected about Harshaw's door, and the elder Harshaw came out with a candle in his hand. Young Harshaw, (pointed out in Court as "the young man with the short hair,") witness thought was the one who did the striking.

The defense offered consisted in a complete contradiction of the statement of the prosecutor. Mrs. Bowman, wife of one of the defendants, was called to prove that the prosecutor caught hold of her and caused the noise spoken of. She was objected to as a witness, and the Court said the rule that a wife could not testify for or against her husband must be applied. A witness, Mr. Black, who was in Harshaw's house, looking out the second story window, heard a noise and saw prosecutor trying to open the door. He ran down to the hall, and there met Bowman with a child in his arms. While looking out of the window, before going down stairs, he saw young Harshaw slap the prosecutor in the face, and had previously heard Mrs. Bowman screaming in the hall. The witness believed, although he observed nothing to justify him in swearing to the fact, that the prosecutor had assailed Mrs. Bowman in the hall.

The testimony of the prosecution did not implicate the elder Harshaw, further than that he was present and thus aided and abetted in the assault, it not appearing that he made any effort to prevent it. The defense utterly denied the statement of the prosecutor, and contended that he brought about the difficulty, in assaulting Mrs. Bowman, and that the violence used upon him was justifiable.

The jury were out at adjournment.

STATE OF KANSAS.

Excursion Over the Union Pacific Railway, E. D.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 1, 1867.

THE TOWNS I HAVE VISITED IN KANSAS.

I do not know that I can embrace within the compass of one letter all that I may wish to say under this head. I have already spoken incidentally of some of the smaller towns I have seen, especially Junction City and Salina, and the last, the newest and the most western—Ellsworth. Rome, on Big Creek, sixty miles beyond Fort Harker, is not a town yet; but in less than a year more it may be a wonderful place. Rome! How I hate this putting of new wine into old bottles! Had they called the new city Big Creek it would have been less ridiculous, whatever might have been said of its euphony or appropriateness.

LEAVENWORTH.

This thriving, beautiful, opulent and commercial city, in which they claim to have a population of 27,000, is situated on what may be called a valley prairie, but well lifted up above the floods of the Missouri, and environed on the north and west—but not closely—by gracefully swelling heights, from the summits of which there are extensive and grand prospects in all directions. Twice, now, have I been driven along these heights, and never shall I forget the charming panoramas that were spread out before me.

Old Fort Leavenworth, established long before the days of the border ruffians, while Iowa, and Kansas, and Nebraska were still part of the great Northwest Territory, is located about two miles north of the city, on the top of a high and abrupt bluff, the base of which is washed by the Missouri, and west of which beautiful rolling farms and prairies spread out in amplitude and grandeur, is a charming spot. Nature and art have combined to render it one of the pleasantest retreats, whether for the citizen or the weary soldier, that I ever saw. Not a feature or a trace of grim-visaged war meets the eye of the stranger. Even its long-continued use as a great distributing post for the numerous forts and stations scattered over the far-reaching "plains" is about ceasing, and ere long it will probably be sold, including the rich and magnificent reservation attached to it. It is very valuable property, and Congress should be well advised of that value before it passes into private hands. Visions of a large fortune are probably looming up before the minds of some sharp operators even now in connection with Fort Leavenworth.

Some of the business streets of Leavenworth have much of the aspect of our old and substantial commercial cities. Statistics of its business would be both interesting and surprising; but it was not my object to collect such things. I was through almost every part of the city, and one thing impressed me strongly—the almost total absence of apparent poverty and squalidity. Most of the buildings are brick, and have a neat, fresh and comfortable aspect. Outside there are many elegant suburban residences which would do credit to any city. And the trees!—nothing can surpass them for thrift and beauty.

But Leavenworth is somewhat in jeopardy commercially; for unless they bring a branch road from the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad at Cameron to the east bank of the Missouri, opposite the city, and throw a bridge across the river, so as to connect their branch of the Union Pacific road, which runs to Lawrence, with the great systems of railroads east of the Mississippi, Kansas City—which has a bridge and a branch road to Cameron already made sure—will bear away the palm. But let both have bridges, and both have branch roads to Cameron, and I see no reason why Leavenworth may not maintain the ascendency. To bridge the Missouri at Leavenworth, however, will be a much more difficult work than at Kansas City; but the people of the former place say it can be done, and that they will do it. In my opinion they must do it or be content to be thrown off the line.

LAWRENCE.

On my return from Fort Harker I stopped a little more than two days in this historic, almost classic little city, around whose annals, although brief in duration as the life of childhood, cluster so many memories of stern devotion to principle, of heroic daring, of patient endurance, of carnage and devastation, of horrid cruelties and fiendish murders, at the calm recital of which, even yet, while standing on the spot, the ears tingle and the heart grows sick. Twice given to the flames by ruthless enemies, and its streets drenched in the blood of its citizens, it has risen in superior beauty, and now stands before the eyes of the admiring stranger, the bright centre of matchless surroundings, the very image and embodiment of security, peace and prosperity.

The main part of the city is on the south side of the Kansas, or Kaw, as it is more frequently called. The ground rises with a gentle ascent from the river. The streets running in one direction are named after the several States; those in the other are numbered. The population is variously given at from seven to eight thousand, and is rapidly increasing. Lawrence is a place of considerable commerce, especially with the fine district lying south of it, which is settling up with great rapidity, and through which they are building a railroad. (Of all these I shall speak more particularly in another letter.) Manufacturing of various kinds is prosecuted largely, especially household furniture, agricultural implements, and woolen goods. I visited the woolen factory in company with Major Smith, son of the Hon. George W. Smith, formerly of Butler, Pa., and was astonished at the excellent variety of goods I saw. I shall show you, when I return, a few small samples which I know you will pronounce equal to anything of the kind made in the United States.

But it is impossible to convey to the mind of one who has never been west of the Missouri an idea of the marvellous beauty of a city set in such natural surroundings. From College Hill you take in a range of miles in extent of which the eye could never weary—such a singular blending of variety without blemish, of intense life, and yet of profound repose.

The history of Lawrence is written and will never be forgotten. But I cannot forbear to touch upon two or three incidents connected with the Quantrell raid which affected me deeply. John Speer, Esq., editor of the Lawrence Daily Tribune, whose father was my neighbor in Armstrong county, and whom I knew well in his boyhood, lost two sons—lads of sixteen and eighteen. One perished in the flames of a store in which he slept; the other escaped from his father's office, and was shot through the body in the street. He fell near a small frame building. An officer ordered the building to be fired. Young Speer begged one of the raiders to draw him away from the building, so that he should not be roasted. He promised to do so, and crossed the street to get a comrade to help him. Two came. One of them, after looking at him attentively for a moment, drew his revolver and shot him through the head. A third son, aged fourteen, saved his life by giving a feigned name. The active part the father had taken in the cause of freedom during the border troubles rendered him and all who bore his name objects of special vengeance. Mr. Speer's residence being out of town, he himself escaped.

A gentleman whose name was on the list of the doomed, a bookseller, was called to the door, shot dead, and fell inside of the hall. His wife, a young lady, was called out, and the house fired. She begged hard to be permitted to remove the body of her husband from the burning building, but this was rudely denied. One of the miscreants observed that she had something in her hand. It was her husband's ambrotype which she had snatched up as she came out. He took it from her, looked at it, and then threw it into the flames.

Nearly two hundred dead bodies strewed the streets, and an almost universal conflagration had laid the town in ruins. No resistance was or could be made. A small military force had been there a few days before, but their commander, in spite of the remonstrances and entreaties of the citizens, sent them away assuring them that there was no danger. Poor man! he remained himself; but his house was surrounded, and in a vain attempt to save himself, climbed down into his own well, which was under his roof. His house was fired and he was smothered.

I now come to one item of what I believe to be unwritten history. I have it from a gentleman of this city of great intelligence and probity. Having done their work, the raiders, who were mounted men, rapidly retreated towards the Missouri border. It appears that they divided into two or three parties or squads. A swift messenger bore the tidings of what they done at Lawrence to the brave and determined leader of a company or band of loyal Missourians. Believing that one of these squads must necessarily cross the Osage river at a certain ford, he posted his men—some under the dark shadow of the opposite bank, and some in a corn-field on the road close by—and awaited their approach. About one o'clock in the morning they heard them coming. The men under the bank lay still until they were nearly across the river; then one simultaneous volley emptied twenty saddles, and dead and wounded were alike swept down the strong current of the river. Twelve only cleared the ford, to meet a similar fate at the hands of the men in the corn-field. Not one escaped.

"What was done with the wounded among the twelve?" asked my informant of the Captain of this band, after he had related the incident.

"O, well, I don't know; they all got into the river somehow."

"Oh! if that river could speak, what tales it could tell!" was the passionate exclamation of that truly loyal but terrible man before he narrated that affair. Such men were made terrible by the terrific scenes in which they lived and moved—scenes began by border ruffians battling for slavery, and continued by rebels.

I cannot close this notice of Lawrence without some mention of a well-remembered friend of my early life, Judge Smith, formerly of Butler, Pa., and who is well known to many of the readers of the GAZETTE. He was in Kansas during all the border troubles, in which he bore an active and conspicuous part, but rather as a counsellor and guiding mind than as a warrior. Few men labored harder, suffered more, or did more to bring that memorable struggle to a successful and triumphant termination than he. I was glad to meet him and his excellent wife—a Kittanning lady—and I highly enjoyed the hospitality of their beautiful home, where in quietude and peace, and loved and honored by those by whom they are surrounded, they can rehearse to their stranger friends the struggles, the battles, and the triumphs of bygone days. SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SECOND BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' GRAND PRESENTATION ENTERTAINMENT, will most positively take place at [illegible] HALL, on the evening of July 24th, 1867. The largest, greatest and most successful enterprise ever inaugurated in the world. A Present with every Ticket.

The First Grand Concert was given on July 4th. It was a grand success. The mammoth Hall was filled with the elite of the city. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading Bankers and Merchants, to examine the corresponding numbers to the tickets and the Register Book to see that all is correct before making the grand distribution of prizes at the last Concert, on the 24th of July.

A gift with every ticket. The Grand Distribution of presents will be conducted on the Mutual Benefit principle. A pro-rata Distribution of Profits to Ticket holders. Capital, $1,287,148. Tickets, $1 each. A present with every ticket.

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the commercial and financial standing of the company, and the managers and bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guarantee of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with it will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket holders will be most scrupulously watched over and guarded. In fact it is the desire of the managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual [illegible] of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and to [illegible] any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest. List of Presents: [illegible] one cash present at $[illegible]; one cash present at $10,000; one cash present at $[illegible]; two cash presents at $[illegible]; three cash presents at $5,000; four cash presents at $3,000; five cash presents at $1,000; eight cash presents at $1,000; fourteen cash presents at $500; twenty cash presents at $[illegible]; [illegible] cash presents at $250; [illegible] cash presents at $100; seventy-five cash presents at $50; one hundred and forty cash presents at $25; one hundred and fifty cash presents at $20; one hundred and seventy five cash present at $10; two hundred cash present at $5—864 cash presents, amounting to $150,000. Pianos—5 Steinway's grand pianos at $1500; 8 Chickering's grand pianos at $1500; 25 Steinway's 7 octave pianos at $[illegible]; 33 Chickering's 7 octave pianos at $600; 91 melodeons at $140; 125 melodeons at $125. Sewing Machines—75 Wheeler & Wilson cabinet case sewing machines at $[illegible]; 64 Wheeler & Wilson half case sewing machines at $125; 133 Wheeler & Wilson plain sewing machines at $65; 73 Singers' cabinet case sewing machines at $150; 10 Singers' half case sewing machines at $125; 130 Singers' plain sewing machines at $85. Diamonds—6 full sets Diamonds at $3,500; 1 full sets diamonds at $2,700; 15 diamond cluster rings at $850; 29 diamond cluster rings at $[illegible]; 25 diamond cluster rings at $450; 31 diamond cluster rings at $[illegible]; 5 diamond cluster pins at $655. Gold Watches—16 gents' gold watches at $250; 26 gents' gold watches at $225; 42 gents' gold watches at $[illegible]; 86 gents' gold watches at $125; 29 ladies' diamond set watches at $250; 55 ladies' gold watches at $185; 92 ladies' gold watches at $160; 166 ladies' gold watches at $145. Silver watches—66 American silver watches at $75; 25 American silver watches at $[illegible]; 130 American silver watches at $48; 23 detached lever silver watches at $37; 249 cylinder watches at $18; 23 plated watches at $8; assorted prizes valued at $[illegible]. Total value of presents, $1,287,148. Immediately after the grand distribution a list of the presents awarded will be printed and sent to each ticket holder. This will be the fairest and most impartial plan of distribution yet offered to the public. To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets and the registering of the same to CLARK, WEBSTER & CO., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the grand presentation entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of presents. Tickets, one dollar each. For sale at the Banking House of CLARK, WEBSTER & CO., No. 62 Broadway, New York, or sent by mail on receipt of price and stamp for return postage.

Special Terms or Club Rates.—Any party procuring a club of five or more names for tickets and sending us the money for the same, will be allowed the following commission: We will send 5 tickets to one address for $4 60; 10 tickets to one address for $9 10; 20 tickets to one address for $17 75; 30 tickets to one address for $25 60; 40 tickets to one address for $35 80; 50 tickets to one address for $44 40; 100 tickets to one address for $87. LEGAL.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—In the Orphans' Court in and for Allegheny County. In the matter of the Partition of the Real Estate of ZERAH HAYDEN, late of Elizabeth township, dec'd. No. 2, March Term, 1867.

To Cornelia Hayden, widow, George Hayden, Nathaniel Hayden, a lunatic, who has for his committee Nathan McGrew, Zerah Hayden, Jr., James Cunningham and Martha H., his wife, Nathan McGrew and Phoebe C., his wife, David Hayden, Wm. Vankirk and Cornelia Maria, his wife, Hiram Edmundson and Abby Ann his wife, and Elijah Hayden, children of Zerah Hayden, dec'd; and Peter Hayden and Cornelia his wife, Mary C. Hayden, Adaline Hayden, Annie Hayden and Reynolds Hayden, Jr., grand-children of Zerah Hayden, dec'd, and children of Reynolds Hayden, dec'd.

You and each of you will take notice that the Court has granted a rule on the parties interested to come into Court on the 10TH DAY OF AUGUST, 1867, and accept or refuse the said real estate at the appraisement, or show cause why the same should not be sold according to the Act of Assembly in such cases made and provided. BY THE COURT.

From the Record.

Attest: A. HILANDS, Clerk. je27:b13:TH

IN THE MATTER OF THE VOLUNTARY ASSIGNMENT of D. ROSS and S. FERGUSON to WM. PORTER. No. 325, December Term, 1866.

Notice is hereby given that the Assignee has filed, by leave of Court, his account, as Assignee in the above case, and that said account will be allowed by the Court on the 30TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1867, unless cause be shown why such account should not be allowed.

THE UNDERSIGNED having secured the sole Agency for the sale of the celebrated

COPLEY POT CLAY,

Are now prepared to furnish it in any quantity to those wishing to procure this superior article. During fifteen years' use of this clay we have arrived at such proportions as we believe makes it a better article for pots than any in the market, we having secured an average stand of six months for each pot, and some lasting as long as eight and ten months. We will furnish receipts for the proportion of the mixture of this Clay to persons purchasing. The Clay is ground and moulded in lumps for delivery.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—The best Farm in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., containing about 280 acres, situated six miles south of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Bolivar Station. The improvements are a large hued log house, with nine rooms, a good cellar; a frame bank barn, 40x70, with the best of stabling. Two apple and one peach orchard. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; the fencing is all No. 1; the soil is good, and is well watered; about 200 acres cleared, the remainder in good white oak timber. This property is offered at the low price of fifty dollars per acre. Possession immediately.

Also, a valuable Garden Farm, containing 89 acres, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, and near Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville Railroad, about nineteen miles from the city. The improvements are a two-story brick house with six rooms, hall running through the house, with cellar; a No. 1 barn and other out-buildings. Abundance of the best fruits, of all varieties. Churches, Schools and Mills very convenient. Persons wishing to engage in gardening would do well to call and purchase quickly.

Also, a Farm of 40 acres, situated in West Wheatfield township, Indiana county, Pa., about 3½ miles from the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The improvements are—First, a two-story frame house, with five rooms, a large frame barn, 45x70, corn crib, carriage house, a good stone spring house and wood house. Second, a two-story log house, a large frame barn, 40x30, a 1½ story frame [illegible] house, and other out-buildings. The fencing is all good. Abundance of limestone on the place, and coal but a short distance. Convenient to Churches, Schools, Mills, &c. I am authorized to sell this property very cheap and on easy terms.

Also, An excellent Farm of 160 acres, of which 98 acres are under cultivation, situate in Christian county, Illinois. Improvements—a new frame dwelling containing 5 rooms; about 400 choice fruit trees, good fencing, &c. It lies within 2 miles of the Illinois Central R. R.; will be sold on reasonable terms. City property taken in part exchange if desired.

Also, a Farm of 312 acres in Penn township, Westmoreland county, 220 acres cleared and under cultivation, 92 acres of first-rate white oak and other timber, 2 dwelling houses, 1 of them 2 stories, the other 1 story, with a tenant house, with a first-rate Steam sawmill in good running order; young orchard of grafted fruit. The land is rolling; every acre is tillable, with lime stone soil and sub oil, with never failing springs; within one hundred rods of the Penna. Central Railroad; 28 miles east of Pittsburgh, and three miles west of Greensburg. This farm is pleasantly and eligibly situated in a good neighborhood; every acre is underlaid with coal. The title is good.

Also, a two-story Brick House, with 10 rooms; 20 feet front and 58 feet back, with two good lots, situated in the village of Bairdstown, Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa., on the bank of the Conemaugh river immediately opposite the Borough of Blairsville. This property I will sell for the low price of $1500.

Also, a Farm of 230 acres, situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana county, Penna. The improvements are a good frame house, frame barn, and other outbuildings; about 180 cleared and under good fence, the residue in good timber. The soil is of a good quality, well watered, convenient to churches, schools, mills, etc. Will be sold at the low price of $40 per acre. Possession immediately.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 10, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 137⅞; Eighty-one bonds, 110¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 111⅞; Five Twenties, 1864, 109⅝; Five Twenties, 1865, 109¾; Consols new, 108⅝; Seven Thirties, 108¼@107¾; Ten Forties, 102⅝. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 69½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 91; Chicago and Rock Island, 97⅜; Chicago and Northwestern 45¼; Chicago and Northwestern preferred 67⅝; Fort Wayne Railroad, 101; Michigan Southern Railroad, 83¾; Western Union Telegraph 45½; Ohio & Miss. certificates, 27¾. Mining Stocks—Gregory, 6.75; Corydon, 2,01; Quartz Hill, 1,90; Smith & Parmelee, 4.60.

The shipments of gold to-day, amounting to more than one million dollars, kept the market steady at 138⅛@138¼. Cash gold is very abundant but these continued shipments to cover past due or protested drafts, will soon deplete the market and make gold scarce before the September payments. An argument used by the Bulls is the fear that Congress will interfere in the Treasury arrangements, and the much talked of troubles with Mexico will tend to keep the market stiff until we have something to export that is in demand in Europe. Among the exports of specie the amounts of silver are remarkably small, and yet there seems to be little of it in the country. What becomes of it, is the ever recurring question. We can only account for it by the heavy imports of products from China and Japan, for which silver has to be paid until American manufacture can compete with Europe.

Government securities have further advanced, and are still in demand. Railroad shares are higher and cliques are formed to work off the fancy shares on the unsuspecting public, who will get all the worthless trash that has nearly crushed Wall street for the last six months. Mining shares are lower. The money market works close, and our prediction that Bank and other stocks would find but few purchasers at present prices.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Tuesday, says: Business in mercantile circles begins to show signs of recuperation, and there is more activity in monetary affairs. The demand for discounts was quite active to-day, and in some quarters the market was reported to be working closer. Paper is closely scrutinized, and there is considerable rejected. Good names backed with unexceptional collaterals find no difficulty in obtaining all the accommodation which such are entitled. In the open market money commands 1@1½ per cent. per month. Call loans on Government securities are made at 8 per cent.

—It is rather gratifying than otherwise to know that there is a plethora of money in London, and in the chief financial centres of continental Europe. In London the rate of interest is now about seven per cent. per annum lower than it was in July of last year. Owing, as we always do, a vast sum to foreign countries, represented by bonds, shares and various documentary evidences of debt, a panic in England would immediately reproduce a responsive movement here. Our foreign creditors would call home some of those funds which, in brighter days, they had lent us. These remittances would cause an export of gold that would be somewhat embarrassing. The present export is not particularly startling, in view of our extensive gold mines which continue in active operation.—Boston Post.

—The following article on the "influx of bullion and the coming harvest" is from the city article of the London Times, of June 24th:

"Neither the favorable harvest weather nor the arrival of a further quarter of a million of gold from America have had the slightest influence on the funds. The public who purchased largely a month ago, are unable to resist the temptation to realize the five per cent profit that has accrued, and are satisfied for the present to let the proceeds lie idle at their bankers, who, in their turn, find it difficult to obtain employment for it at two per cent. Thus far it is evident the revival of financial confidence has scarcely made any progress either in Paris or London. The unparalleled accumulation of bullion, and the low rates of discount, have rendered it impossible to obstruct a certain advance in the prices of the funds but the inherent feeling of distrust is almost as strong as ever, and, consequently, when holders discover that they can actually obtain a fair profit on their original investments, they rush to secure it, as if there could be no hope of its permanence. A similar tendency pervades every department of trade, and by checking all orders for foreign goods, except such as are indispensable, increases the prospect of a large continuance of the influx of bullion.

"The possibility of another indifferent harvest constituted the only apparent contingency, that might be likely to turn the tide, and now that the promise of abundance seems to be daily strengthened, the problem as to the point the plethora in the money market is likely to reach, and the mode in which it will ultimately find development, becomes more than ever interesting."

The same journal, on the 25th of June, in its money article, says:

"According to advices from Frankfort, the plethora for money, and the peaceful turn of political affairs continue to influence the markets, and prices improve steadily. Austrian stocks are in particular request, great confidence being placed in the policy of Baron Von Beust, with regard to whom an opinion prevails that if he be allowed by the ecclesiastical and military parties to finish the work he has so well begun, Austria will in five years hence be a mighty and solvent State. While Austrian credit is thus in process of recovery, that of America has experienced a check, a continuous number of sales forced on a reluctant market having prevented United States bonds from participating in the rise witnessed in all other descriptions. Every attempt to introduce 1865 bonds has hitherto failed, the conviction being that it would only lead to an overflooding of the European markets, and proportionately diminish the number of holders in America, and the guarantee at present furnished by an identity of interest."

Wool in Michigan.

DETROIT, July 9.—Last week there was an increased activity in the wool traffic throughout the State, attended with some advance in prices in the leading markets. Yet the trade on the whole is light, and is much less throughout the State than at this date last year, as the comparative receipts of the corresponding weeks ending this day for the two years will in a measure show, the aggregate being 419,845 pounds during the week just ended and 824,171 pounds during the same period last year. Notwithstanding there are many growers that are disposed to hold their clips for higher prices, the amount being offered is greater than is supposed would have been a few weeks since, and dealers here report that they are enabled promptly to fill all orders received from the east at rates now prevailing. Very little wool is taken in this city, and hence we quote rates prevailing in interior markets as reported by our correspondents and the local press. These do not vary materially and the range 38@47c would cover the extremes ruling in nearly every market in the State.

At Kalamazoo, last week about 35,000 pounds was taken at an average of 43½c, the highest price paid being 47c. At Albion considerable has been brought in and principally taken at 40@45c. At Marshall the same range prevailed. At Jackson the average price ruling at the close of the week was 43c. At Ann Arbor about 35,000 pounds have been taken at 38@45c. At Hillsdale 43c is the highest paid. At Corunna sales are light at 35@40c. At Ovid the range is from 38@45c, only very little commanding the highest figure.—Tribune.

Wool in Ohio.

We compile from our Ohio exchanges, of recent date, the following facts in regard to the ruling price of wool in different localities:

In Morrow county there have been very few transactions as yet. Small lots have been sold at 45@48c, but the growers hold back from these figures. In Columbus almost nothing has been done. Buyers offer 40c, and growers want 50c. In Lorain county no sales except for private speculation, and no quotations given by the Oberlin News. The Zanesville City Times says: The wool market has not been very lively during the past week, prices ranging from 42@47c. Growers are holding for 50c for the finest clips. In Carroll county the wool is mostly held back by the growers, who ask 60c, but sales have been made at 50c, which is top notch with the buyers. In Champaign county, the Urbana Citizen reports Messrs. Ross & Hitt as buying considerable quantities of wool at 38@45c. The Mt. Vernon Republican says: There has not been much wool sold in Knox county this year. We have heard of none selling for over 50c, and for a few days past the price has been from 45@48c. In Madison county the Union reports sales at 40@45c. Buyers offer 45c, and growers hold strongly at 50@60. Finally, in Clarke county, 45c, is reported as the ruling figure, though growers object to taking less than 50c, which has been paid in some instances.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 10, 1866.

There was a firmer, and apparently more confident feeling in the general markets to-day, and some articles are again somewhat excited and tending upward, though, generally speaking, there are no change in prices worthy of special notice. To Messrs. Isaiah Dickey & Co. belongs the credit of having received the first new Flour of the season, consisting of seventy-five barrels, ground from new Tennessee Wheat, and shipped at Nashville.

GRAIN—There is some little Wheat arriving, but we have no sales reported. Oats firm and in demand but unchanged; 72@73c, on track, and 75c, in store. Corn is dull but held pretty firmly at 85@90c for good to prime Yellow. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,15@1 20. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—The market is steady, with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices, although maintained, are unchanged. We quote at $11@12,00 for fair to choice Spring Wheat; $12,75@13,50 for Winter Wheat, and $16,50@17,50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour $8,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm, and Shoulders and Hams have still further advanced, and we now quote the former at 10½c, and the latter at 19½c. Sides remain unchanged and dull. Lard is dull and unchanged at 12½c for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork nominal at $22 50.

POTATOES—There is quite an active demand for New Potatoes, and we can report regular sales at $6,00@6,50 per bbl. Old may be quoted at $1,10@1 15 per bush.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and prices remain unchanged. Prime fresh may be quoted at 16@17c, and old packed at 8@10c.

EGGS—In better demand, and under the influence of limited arrivals, prices have advanced to 20c for fresh packed.

GREEN APPLES—There is an active demand, and with light arrivals, prices may be quoted firm at $8@9 per bbl.

CHEESE—Is selling in a regular way at from 13@16c, as to quality—mostly at 14@15c.

DRIED FRUIT—Very dull; small sales at 5c @8c for Apples, and 8@12c for Peaches.

OIL—Lard Oil is still quoted by manufacturers at 82@83 for No. 2 and $1,04@1,05 for No. 1

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 10, 1867.

CRUDE—There was quite an excitement in the Crude market to day, and with considerable inquiry and but little offering, prices, compared with yesterday, are a shade higher. Sale of 5000 barrels to be delivered on first water, at 8¾c; 5000 do, same delivery, at 8½c, and 1000 same delivery, at 8¼c. Towards evening, sellers were asking 8¾@9c for first water, though so far as we could learn, there were no buyers above 8½c. The market is in a very flighty and unsettled condition, and operators are in a dilemma as to which course they ought to pursue, under existing circumstances. Buyers are apprehensive, lest prices should go still higher, while sellers, on the other hand, are fearful of a decline. At Oil City, according to private telegrams, crude has advanced to $2.75 per barrel, which is an advance of nearly one dollar per bbl within a few days.

REFINED—The market was again strong to-day, although less excited than yesterday, and notwithstanding the sales in the aggregate were comparatively light, prices, nevertheless, are well maintained, and if anything, a shade higher. Sale of 1000 bbls standard white, for July, seller's option, at 30½c; 500 for last half of July, and 500 for last half of August, buyers option, both at 25, free on board cars here; and 500 bbls prime light straw to white, for July, at 27½c, delivered in Philadelphia. July delivery may be fairly quoted at 30@30½, seller's option, and 31c, buyer's option. We have no further advices in regard to the "rape seed crop," but it is believed that it will be a failure.

Boston Wool Market.

There has been a moderate demand for wool during the past week, and the sales have been mostly in small lots as wanted for current consumption. Though the actual consumption of wool is very light for the season, the transactions in this market continue to foot up a fair average, and do not indicate the measure of the falling off in manufacturing operations. The reason of this is, that all the wool which goes into consumption is now bought in the eastern markets, whereas, usually at this season, manufacturers are getting their supplies directly from the country, and hence the bulk of their purchases does not appear in our local reports.

That consumers are now falling back wholly upon the regular markets for supplies, is the result of a wise and well considered policy. The new wool coming forward from the West is mostly in good condition, and we note sales, both here and to arrive, at relatively fair rates as compared with those of old staple.

From first hands, we hear of sales in Michigan at 40@45c—mostly at 43@45c; in Ohio at 40@50c; and in Pennsylvania and West Virginia at 45@55c. Some growers are holding considerably above these rates, but will hardly be able to find takers in the present state of the eastern markets. Indeed, it is doubtful whether any description of wool, which is bought up at over 50c, will realize any margin to the buyer or consumer.

Sales of domestic for the week have been fair and foot up some 650,000 lbs. at a range of 32½@65c for fleece, and 36@62c for the various grades of pulled.—Bulletin.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 10.—Flour is in good demand for high grades and tends upwards, though prices are not quotably higher: family, $12@13; fancy, 13,50@14; the stock is very light. Wheat in light supply and firm, at $2,40 for No 2; and $2,50 for No 1 red; there is no new wheat offering. Corn unchanged and firm, at 75@76c for No. 1, in bulk; and 85@88c for sacked; the latter for white. Oats advanced to 78c for No. 1. Rye scarce; No 1 held at $1.25; sales at $1.23. Cotton dull at 23c for middling. Whisky steady, at $2 30, in bond. Pork is firmer, but the demand is light; sales of 400 bbls at $22@22,25; it is generally held higher, however. Bulk pork is firm at 9@11c for shoulders and sides, and not much offering. Bacon—there is an active demand; sales of 600 hhds at 10c for shoulders, and 13c for clear sides; 12½c for clear rib sides, and 11¾c for rib do. Hams in good demand and prices are higher; common, 17c; and sugar cured, 19@20c. Lard is in better demand, and 200 tierces sold at 11¾c for city; not being offered to any extent. Butter dull, at 14@16c. Cheese, at 12@13c. Flaxseed, $2 20; the demand is light. Gold 138¾, buying. Exchange steady at par buying, and 1-10th premium selling.

Milwaukee Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, July 10.—Flour is firm; city double extra, $11@12; country do $10 25@10 50; extra, $9 75@10 25. Wheat is unsettled at $2 35 for No 1, and $2 22½ for No 2; $1 98 for No 3; $1 33 for rejected. Oats is firmer at 63c for No 1, and 62c for No 2. Corn is firm at 85c for No 1. Receipts—700 bbls flour, 13,600 bushels wheat; 1,800 bushels oats, and 1,800 bushels corn. Shipments—2 300 bbls flour; 16 000 bushels wheat; 400 bushels oats, and 400 bushels corn.

St. Louis Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST LOUIS, July 10.—Tobacco dull and unchanged. Cotton nominal, at 22@23c. Flour firm and unchanged. Wheat active and 10@15c higher; prime new $2,40@2.50; choice, $2,60; lots to arrive could only be sold 20@25c below these figures. Corn heavy and easier, at 90c@$1.05. Oats very firm, at 76@80c. Rye firm, at $1,10. Provisions buoyant. Pork $22.75@23. Bacon—shoulders, 9¾c; clear sides, 13c; clear rib, 12⅝c.

Cleveland Market.

CLEVELAND, July 9.—Flour firm and in fair demand for fresh ground city and country. We quote XX spring at $10.50@13 for country and city; $12@14 for XX red winter; $14 50@16 for XXX white. Wheat, none on the market, and prices are nominal at $2,30 for No. 2 Milwaukee spring; $2.40 for No. 2 red winter; $2,50@2,55 for No 1 do do. Corn—fair demand and market firmer; held at 80c for No. 1 shelled from store. Oats in good request. No. 1 State from store held firm at 72c. Rye—no sales. Barley dull and nominal.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point, and there is scarcely enough water on Glass House to float a good sized yawl. There is nothing whatever doing at the main landing, business being completely suspended, and there are no indications at present of any immediate improvement. Even the Brownsville boats have been obliged to lie up for the present, in consequence of being found necessary to make repairs to some of the upper locks. The weather continues clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for securing the crops in splendid condition.

We extract the following items from the St. Louis Democrat, of Tuesday:

The Mary McDonald was the successful bidder for the transportation of two hundred tons of government freight to Little Rock, at 48½c per 100 pounds, the McCune bidding 70c and Enterprise 50c. The Iron City was the successful bidder for Batesville, White river, freight, about 60 tons. We have from the Graham the following rather interesting statement, which we give verbatim: "Quickest time ever made by any steamer on any waters. 2,325 miles in five days and nine hours—from mouth of Yellowstone river to St. Louis. Steamer Graham is 248 feet in length, 38½ feet beam, and carries 1000 tons—the largest steamer that ever made the trip.

The Common Council of New Orleans are about to appropriate $2000 to defray the expenses of a commission, consisting of W. S. Parkham, W. J. Minor, and Alexander Walker, to visit Washington during the July session, and urge upon the Government the necessity of fostering the levee interests of Louisiana.

The general term of the New York Court of Common Pleas has decided that a steamboat is liable for property stolen from the stateroom of a passenger, the latter having the key of his room in his possession at the time of the theft.

The Phil. Sheridan, which left St. Louis on Wednesday, made the run to Dubuque in forty hours and fifty-two minutes, which beats the Sucker's time some hours. The Hawkeye State, which left with the Phil. Sheridan, was passed under way and left entirely out of sight.

The Sucker State, says the St. Louis Republican, does not retain the glory of having made the quickest run on record to Dubuque. The Phil. Sheridan, which left here on Wednesday, made the run in forty hours and fifty two minutes, which beats the Sucker's time some hours. The Hawkeye State, which left with Phil., was passed under way, and left entirely out of sight.

The St. Louisians were not satisfied with the manner in which the Phil. Sheridan beat their up river pet, passing her four times under way, and must needs bring out the Hawkeye State to take the conceit out of the little gallant racer. On Wednesday last both boats left St. Louis, the Hawkeye at 4:55, and the Sheridan at 4:58. The result, to Muscatine, is thus announced by the Journal of the 5th:

About 8 o'clock last evening great interest was excited by the almost simultaneous appearance around the towhead below the city of two steamers which proved to be the Phil. Sheridan and Hawkeye State, and which, it had been announced, were to start out of St. Louis together. The Sheridan was a short distance in advance, and landed at this place, while her rival passed on. By the officers of the Sheridan we have been furnished the following memoranda of the trip: Left St Louis at 4:58; Hawkeye left at 4:55; Belle of Pike at 4:20; Lucy Bertram at 4:24. Passed the Lucy Bertram below Grafton; Belle of Pike at Grafton Landing; first came in view of the Hawkeye below Hannibal, nearly reached her at Madison, she not landing; lapped her first at Keithsburgh; parted with her to land at New Boston, she leading us about a mile at 7:20; at 7:50 lapped her again, and after a desperate and dangerous resistance on her part, passed her at 8:15. Muscatine is our twelfth landing, and the Hawkeye's sixth so far as we known.

The Dubuque Herald, of Saturday, contains the following: It is noticed that W. F. Davidson, President of the Northwestern Union Packet, has been here a good deal of late. It is now said his object is to prospect relative to removing all his yards &c., from Lacrosse to this point, so that hereafter all his repairs, building, &c., will be done at Dubuque; and in fact, this will be the principal point for the whole line. It is also reported that the Northern Line are contemplating laying up and repairing many of their boats at this point hereafter. It is well known that they cannot do it at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS July 8.—The river is still swelling here; if it gets three feet higher it will be very inconvenient. The Illinois is steadily approaching a low stage. The Wild Duck and Shamrock arrived yesterday. The Magenta is coming here from New Orleans to repair. The Lizzie Gill is to be cut into parts and lengthened and widened. The Deer Lodge is returning to get a new shaft. She will leave again for Benton about the 9th.

Louisville is now the head of good steamboat navigation, as Cincinnati and Pittsburgh are effectually cut off by protruding sand bars and low water.

Two barges laden with hay were sunk at the head of Hurricane Island in the Lower Ohio last week, and one of them went to pieces, and a large amount of hay floated off. The Louisiana, bound for New Orleans, took off the freight of the other.

Hurricane Island is now the most difficult point of navigation along the lower river. The channel is not defined, but divides at the head of the island, diffusing the water down both sides, making it very shoal. Heretofore, in low water, the channel, or bulk of water, ran down along the Illinois shore and, as the water recedes, it is expected the channel will gradually cut out, and again go down the Illinois shore.

We extract the following from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday:

The St. James reports the Potomac as having been aground at Buffington from Wednesday to Friday, and all the towboats in that vicinity busily engaged in lighting her of her cargo. She also reports the channel very shallow at Eight Mile and Guyandotte. Captain John Kyle yesterday received a dispatch from Pomeroy, from Capt. Holloway, reporting a rise of one foot at that place yesterday. The Potomac reports the towboats Stella and Rover, and the steamer Importer, laid up at Buffington, waiting for a rise. Captain McGill contemplates naming his new steamer the "Belle Lee." Red river levee, in front of Alexandria, gave way on the night of the 2?th, flooding the lower portion of the town, but the break was promptly repaired by the citizens. On the night of the first it again broke. The only chance for the town to escape overflow is by the fall of the river. One of the large barges built for the Ohio and Mississippi Transportation Company at Madison, was to have been launched yesterday, at Vance & Armstrong's shipyard. One day last week the Amanda exploded one of her boilers near Omaha Landing on the Missouri river. She was bound for Sioux City.
